KISS COST SENOR CALDENTE $28

Judge Wislizenus Fined the Spanish Teacher.

MISS GARETSON TESTIFIED

DECLARED SHE DID NOT INVITE HIM BY MANNER.

Young Man Said He Was Close to Her, Our Eyes Met, and—Then, Well, I Kissed Her.

The official quotation for a kiss in the Dayton street police court Saturday was $28.

Senor Almador Caldente, son of Spain and teacher of his native tongue, was compelled by Judge Wislizenus to pay this sum for the one he stole last Monday afternoon from Miss Catherine Gertrude Garetson of 5027 Vernon avenue, while he was instructing her in the school with which he is connected in the Odeon.

Judge Wislizenus first set the price $15 less, but after a long protest by the city attorney he raised the quotation to the closing figure.

Senor Caldente paid the fine, avowing as he did so that he wanted no more kisses from American girls with the market in its present state.

In announcing his decision Judge Wislizenus said he would not attempt to make the fine equal to the enormity of the offense committed, because he strongly disapproved of the course of the prosecuting witness in taking her grievance to the police court.

"I fine the defendant because, under the evidence, I am obliged to do so, and I make the amount $25 because I want the public to know that I believe the statement of Miss Garetson. I will not go higher because this case should have been remedied in another way.

"But I also wish to be understood as having no sympathy for the defendant. He makes the defense that he is a gentleman, but his own statement of the case shows that he did not act as a gentleman should have acted. He betrayed his trust as a teacher."

Thought That She Wanted to Be Kissed.

Senor Caldente's defense was that he thought from a look in Miss Garetson's eyes that she wanted to be kissed.

"I teach her," he said. "I get close to her. She look at me. She asw me the Spanish for 'give me a kiss.' I look in her eyes. And—well, I kiss her."

Miss Garetson said the senor was mistaken about what he saw in her eyes.

She told the story succinctly and in a clear voice. She was modestly gowned in a black suit, and wore a black hat. She is attractive.

She said the senor, from whom she was taking her third lesson in Spanish, and with whom she had no social acquaintance, had been telling her the name of articles of clothing, pointing out the particular article each time as an object lesson.

"Once," she said, "he took hold of my hand and told me what the Spanish for that member was. He held it unreasonably long and I drew it away from him.

"Then he wrote on the blackboard the Spanish for 'Please give me a kiss,' and asked me to read it for him. I knew its meaning and refused to read it.

"Suddenly he threw his arms about me and kissed me on the lips violently. I was overwhelmed with astonishment; in fact, bewildered. I drew back from him, but I could not cry out because my voice was gone. The senor proceeded with the lesson, and I was too frightened to assert myself. I had completely lost control of my mind. In 10 minutes he approached me again and kissed me two or three times. I was too weak to defend myself.

"I never gave Senor Caldente any reason to take such a liberty with me. I was barely acquainted with him, and that only in a professional way."

When Attorney Andrew Duggan, who represented Caldente, asked Miss Garetson if she did not take lessons in French and German, each lasting an hour, after the episode, and failed to say anything to the instructors in those tongues about the kissing episode, she replied that that was true.

Nervous Throughout Other Lessons.

When re-examined by Attorney W. B. Hudson, whom Miss Garetson's father had employed as special counsel for the city, Miss Garetson said she was very nervous throughout her other lessons and that she did not speak of the senor's conduct to the teachers because she believed that her father was the proper person to her her grievance.

She proceeded, she said, to the office of her father, James Sylvanus Garetson, in the Rialto building, and told him what had occurred.

Mr. Garetson told of his visit to the senor at the school in the Odeon building.

"I accused Senor Caldente with taking improper liberties with my daughter," said Mr. Garetson. "He said that was not true. I was very angry at first, and this wrought me up more because I knew my daughter had told the truth. I told him I was tempted to kill him, but that I would proceed against him according to law. I sent my son-in-law, Mr. Dings, for an officer, who arrested Senor Caldente upon my complaint. While Mr. Dings was absent, Caldente admitted that he had kissed my daughter and apologized."

"Are you sure you said 'kiss' instead of 'liberty' when you accused Caldente of improper conduct?" asked Attorney Dugan.

"I am not sure," replied Mr. Garetson, "but I think I said 'kis.'"

"It doesn't make any difference which word he used," said the court. "A kiss is a liberty, whether it is by mutual agreement or by force."

Mr. Garetson said that, when his daughter appeared at his office, she was hysterical, and that the kissing episode had unstrung her. He testified that she was of a particularly nervous temperament.

William Woods Dings, who married Miss Garetson's sister, said he accompanied Mr. Garetson when he called upon Senor Caldente Tuesday afternoon.

"You were there for the purpose of 'bulldozing' him, were you not?"

"I went along at Mr. Garetson's request, and for no stated purpose."

Mr. Dings said he was so angry that he probably threatened to kill Senor Caldente during the first part of the interview, though he could not remember just what he said.

At this juncture the city rested its case.

Shivering an Hour Afterward.

M. Constant, manager of the school and instructor in French, testified that he noticed that Miss Garetson was shivering violently when she appeared before him for her French lesson immediately after her hour in Spanish was completed.

"I thought she was cold," he said, "and I moved a chair to the radiator for her. It was exceedingly cold that day, and the building was not heated to a proper temperature. After she sat by the register awhile she appeared to be all right. She answered all her questions well and without any suspicion of nervousness. But she is very bright in languages, and she might answer such questions as I asked her under very trying conditions."

"You were present at the interview between Mr. Garetson and Senor Caldente?" Mr. Hudson asked.

"Yes, sir."

"Did you hear Mr. Garetson say he would kill Caldente?"

"No; but he said he thought that was the best thing that could be done."

Herr Mueller, instructor of German in the school, said Miss Garetson took a lesson in German from him following that in French and two hours after the kissing episode.

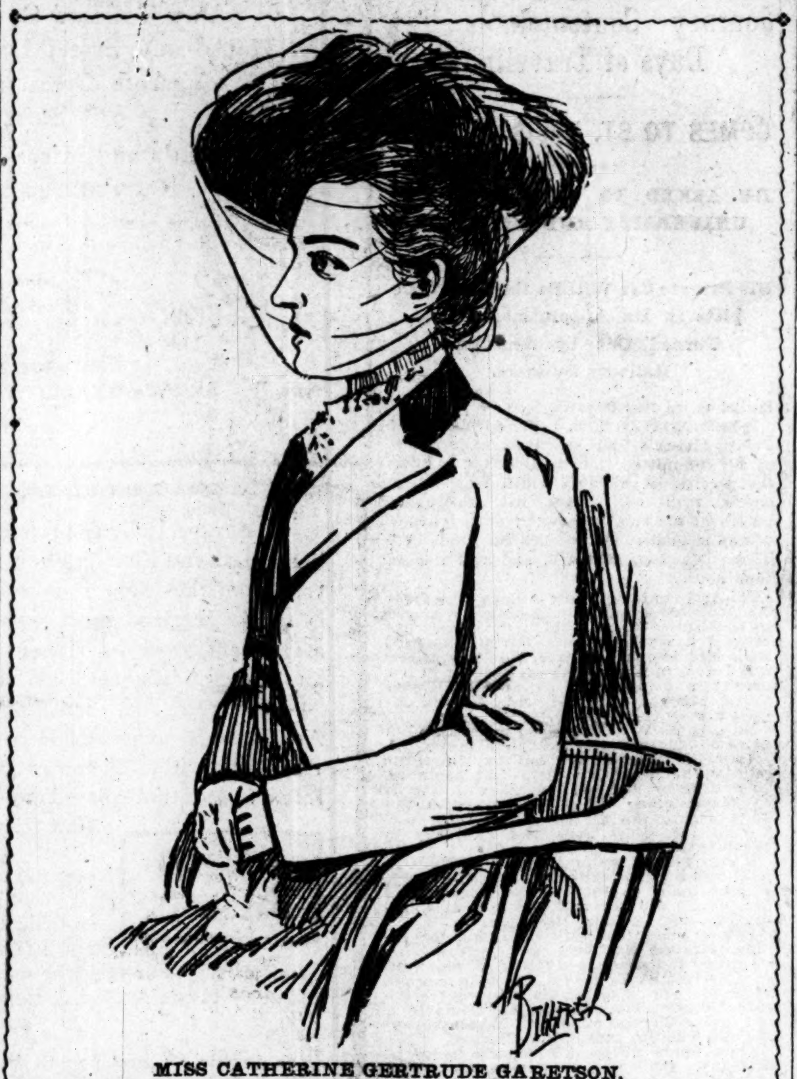
"She was shivering when I first saw her, but after she sat by the heater a while she appeared to be all right. She answered her questions excellently, but she is very bright and that would not necessarily indicate that her mind was disturbed."

"I did not hear Mr. Garetson threaten to kill Senor Caldente. He said he thought that would be the proper thing to do, however."

Senor Caldente went on the stand and made the statement already quoted.

"I would never have kissed Miss Garetson if I had not thought she wished it. She kissed me back the first time and that was why I kissed her again and again."

KISSING THIS GIRL PROVED EXPENSIVE



MISS CATHERINE GERTRUDE GARETSON,
Who Prosecuted Her Spanish Teacher for Kissing her.

ONE LITTLE STREET CAR JOURNEY INTO THE NOONDAY MIDNIGHT

Being a Pen Picture of New St. Louis as She Appeared to a Post-Dispatch Reporter Beneath Her Smoke Blanket.

Riding downtown on the rear platform of an Olive street car, which left Taylor avenue at 9 o'clock this morning, I had opportunity to learn the location of the holes in the smoke blanket which made certain parts of St. Louis dark as night.

At Taylor avenue, 4500 west, I observed that it was a gray morning and there was a little drizzle. The sun was not visible, but no one expected to see the sunshine on a day like this. Still, the nocturnal darkness into which I was about to plunge was not anticipated as I bought a morning paper and got into a corner to read.

It was easy to read by the daylight out there. The car was not lighted.

At Vandeventer avenue, when the car ran over the intersecting tracks, the jar caused me to look up from my paper and I noticed that the light was dimmer. Reading was difficult.

"Seems to be getting a little dark," remarked a fellow-passenger.

Darker and darker grew the scene until, reaching Grand avenue, the car plunged into unmistakable night. It was as dark there as it will be at 10 o'clock tonight.

The stores at the corners were illuminated, shedding a dull glare over the street. But there were no street lights, and after passing Grand avenue the car ran along several blocks between dark residences and small shops but dimly lighted. The opaqueness of the situation was almost complete.

WOMEN GREW FEARSOME.

Women on the car grew timidly fearsome. The conductor had turned on the electric lights before reaching Grand avenue. It was an unusual thing to have lights in a car near midday. The men had resumed their reading by the artificial light.

A girl who was late caused some of her more timid sisters to smile by remarking jovially to her companion: "I'll have an excuse for being late; I'll just say I thought it was last night."

The car sped on, the motorman clanging his gong almost incessantly, for it was impossible for him to see more than a few feet ahead, and yet the usual number of teams and pedestrians were abroad, crossing and recrossing the street, dodging here and there in the darkness.

At Compton avenue a strange thing happened. The world grew light again. We could read our papers by the daylight, and the conductor turned off the electrics.

"Getting light again, all right," remarked the passenger who had said back at Spring avenue that it seemed to be getting a little dark. This passenger as an optimist. He had not despaired nor thought of eclipses, earthquakes, cataclysms or other hoodoo-lin horrors, even in the opaqueness of the Grand avenue district. Now he was convinced that it was getting light again and it was all right.

But Mr. Optimist did not see things in their right light. He "had another look coming" and he got it by the time the car was at Twenty-first street.

As that thoroughfare was approached the newspaper print began to blur together, and it was impossible to distinguish an advertising cut of Mrs. Pinknam from the latest picture of a World's Fair worker in the act of working.

Over on Locust street is a big electric power plant. Elsewhere in the vicinity are factories. Huge columns of black smoke belching from these chimney stacks were responsible for the returning darkness.

[illegible] THE LIGHTS.

Again the conductor turned on the lights. Again the timid women in the car, and perhaps some of the men, thought of the George Dryer earthquake which did not happen Friday. Perhaps it was a day late and was just going to happen, thought more than one.

"Must be mighty foggy," suggested a large man who was crowded against the gate.

"Fog? It's no fog, its smoke; that's what it is," growled a tall young man who looked good natured when he boarded the car at Sarah street.

"You don't mean to say that smoke can cause all this darkness?" asked another.

"I certainly do," replied the tall man. "It has done it before, though perhaps not quite so thoroughly. Dead calm, no air currents to carry off the smoke—it becomes a blanket and simply covers the town. Don't you see?"

"WHO'S JONES?"

Here began a chorus of exclamations against the municipality for permitting such conditions.

"It's a shame that this city has so much smoke!" said one. "Why don't the citizens get together and go after Jones?"

"Who's Jones?" asked one who was a newcomer.

"Jones is the smoke inspector. He is supposed to inspect the smoke creators and compel the owners of them to put in smoke consumers."

"Oh, well, Mr. Jones has done pretty well," the optimist put in. "He has inspected a great many smokestacks and got lots of them on the run, as his reports to the mayor show. He's doing very—"

"Cut it out!" said the tall man from Sarah street. "Isn't this midnight-at-midday business enough to advertise the fact that the smoke is not being consumed?"

Up the hill to Seventeenth street the car ran through almost utter darkness. Looking up and down the intersecting streets, I could see but half a block, for where there were no business houses there were no lights, except here and there where citizens had lit up their front rooms.

"LET'S NOT WORRY."

All the way down to Broadway, where a crowd passing north reminded me of the throng leaving the Olympic Theater after the night performance, we continued our nocturnal trip. It was odd to see so many persons out in the darkness. It occurred to me that it was time for them to go home and go to bed, yet they were rushing about as if they had urgent business.

The comments upon the darkness continued, until near the end of the trip one man sought to put a stop to it by saying:

"Well, gentlemen, it may be fog, and it may be smoke, and again it may be that the City Hall bribers have brought about this darkness to cover a multitude of their sins and foil the grandjury; but whatever it is, the Post-Dispatch will tell us all about it this afternoon, so let's not worry."

DARKNESS IS DUE SOLELY TO SMOKE

—DR. HYATT.

Day the Blackest Forecaster Has Ever Seen.

BIG DROP IS PREDICTED

SUNDAY WILL BE FROM 15 TO 20 DEGREES COLDER.

Lack of Light, the Prophet Declares, Was Caused by Lack of a Breeze to Carry Off Blanket of Smoke.

Dr. Hyatt declares that Saturday is the darkest day St. Louis has experienced since he became local weather observer, three years ago, and that the darkness was due entirely to the smoke.

As a weather condition this smoke blanket was no less interesting than Dr. Hyatt's prediction of a drop in temperature of from 15 to 20 degrees by Sunday morning, with a possibility of almost zero weather by Sunday night, the cold spell to last several days.

A "high" bound hitherward from the Northwest accounts for the approaching cold weather, which may be accompanied by snow.

Lack of breeze accounted for the smoke pall.

St. Louis was becalmed from 9 o'clock until noon. The superstitious may have thought it was bewitched and hoodooed, but it was merely becalmed. Without a breath of breeze to bear the monstrous billows of chimney-stack vapor away, the city lay uneasily under an opaque blanket—with holes in it at places.

So the day was turned into night, and the Black Goblin of the nocturnal fastnesses got us, since we had no chance to look out.

Aided by no fog, and with no other feature save a dreary, drizzling mist, Old Smoke buried the great city from the light of Old Sol.

FROM TOP OF SKYSCRAPER.

From the top of the Union Trust building, the highest structure in the city, 250 feet above the streets, how did St. Louis [illegible]ear?

Like a city sunken in a vast vapor. One received the impression that the solid earth had given way and from some subterranean chambers of immense room had arisen these clouds of smoke to envelop the walls of brick and stone as they slowly sank into the world invisible.

Standing upon the platform at the top of the building one seemed to be in the midst of the vapors, for there was smoke all around, [illegible] and overhead. But the smoke beneath was the densest. At that height there was some breeze, which carried the clouds here and there; but below the dead calm reigned.

ONE BLOCK THE VISION LIMIT.

One block was the limit of vision and even at that short distance the eyes could but dimly discern things. Bright lights could be seen a half block farther, but not beyond that.

Farther away, the world was a gray perspective of apparent emptiness, both the city below and the sky above having the same appearance of vacancy and naught.

The whole business district was lighted up just as on a natural night. The electric street lights and the inside lights gleamed dully through the dark. In the skyscraper office structures every casement showed its electric gleam, indicating that the occupants of those busy hives were striving to recover the lost day.

To the northeast loomed up the tall Equitable building, a block and a half distant. Two sides of this building were visible, but only because of the lights that showed from every window.

It was a spectacle to be remembered, for that structure looked like a part of a sea-buried city, visible by phosphorescent glow, through the yellow waters.

The postoffice, having no lights in its roof, was utterly invisible, though located on the next block west. Its site seemed like the upper regions, a section of nothingness.

Across Olive street, the sidewalks of which could be seen only here and there at points where bright lights flashed from show windows, the Holland building was visible where it rose far above the lower building on the corner; that is, the lighted casements were visible; the outline of the structure looked vague, indictinct, like one of those old paintings of a London street on a day of midnight fog.

With its blurred outlines the handsome building resembled an illuminated ruin dimly seen through smoked glass.

MEN LOOKED LIKE GOBLINS.

The surface of Seventh street, for a small space, could be seen, and here and there the shape of a man or a woman, like a goblin, moving silently across the little space of semi-light, from gloom to gloom.

It was a series of dissolving views. The figure of a human being or a horse and wagon or a street car would grow out of the darkness, moving along a little space like a phantasm minus the white diaphanous garb, then melt again into the gloom—vapor returning to vapor.

One thing only redeemed the occasion from utter ghostliness. That was the noise. Had the city been absolutely silent one might have experienced such an eerie feeling, at this altitude, that the impression would have wrought upon the nerves.

But over and above all, even more insistent for recognition than was the darkness itself, was the clang and roar of the city.

The urban noises were increased by the darkness. Their increase was made necessary thereby.

The city was enveloped in night, but would not admit that it was night; the hour was 10 a. m., and this workaday world must drive along as usual at that hour.

Therefore it fell that the street car gongs made most vociferous clangor—these loud alarm bells, sounding much louder to the ear of one standing at that altitude than to one in the street.

The warning gong was heard from all quarters. Motormen could scarcely see persons ten feet ahead. The gong was brought into use to re-enforce spent vision.

There was also the roar of machinery. The great engines, with throb and puff—the manufacturers of the smoke blanket—were incessant in their noise which, at that height, was resolved into a vast composite of rumble.

Now and then, apparently from an erratic puff of wind, a great black cloud would be borne across the lighted spaces, utterly obliterating the view of electric glares and the parts of streets and buildings and moving traffic which they made half visible.

When these gigantic smoke puffs suddenly obscured the scene it gave the impression that another large section of city walls had tumbled into the chasm of disappearance, sucked into the vast void and vanished forever.

Descending in the elevator one was brought back to a realization that this was ordinary earth, sans cataclysmic catastrophes, by a newsboy in the corridor, who yelled:

"Aw, wot ye been up 'n th' roof fur? Ye can't see nuttin' f'om there wen it's dark like dis!"

"RED" GALVIN GOT PRESIDENT'S EAR

Ex-Newsboy, Now News-Gatherer, Held Up Bohle's Commission.

FILED CHARGES THROUGH MR. LOEB

HE ADMITS A PERSONAL DISLIKE FOR THE MARSHAL.

Allegations Contain Names and Dates Setting Forth Use of Railroad Passes by Mr. Bohle.

> Time, at last, makes all things even
> And if we do but watch the hour
> There never yet was human power,
> That could evade, if unforgiven,
> The patient search and vigil long
> Of him who treasures up a wrong.

> —Byron.

United States Marshal Louis Bohle returned from Washington Friday without the commission for a second term of four years in his present office, for which he is said to have gone to the capital.

After Mr. Bohle's arrival at Washington the press correspondents sent out telegrams that Mr. Bohle's name would be sent to the Senate at once; that there was no opposing candidate for the office and that the Republican factions in this state, famous for their warring propensities, had indorsed Mr. Bohle with astonishing unanimity.

But Mr. Bohle has not been re-appointed. While he was in Washington with his arms outstretched—figuratively—for the commission, President Roosevelt's private secretary, Mr. Loeb, received a telegram from James M. Galvin of St. Louis, requesting that the commission be held up until charges against Mr. Bohle, which Mr. Galvin had that day mailed, could reach the President.

The commission wsa held up and Mr. Loeb, with whom Mr. Galvin is personally acquainted, wired Mr. Galvin that the charges would be investigated.

THE CHARGES.

"That on Jan. 19, 1901, Marshal Bohle went to New Orleans to deliver a man named Gibbs, who had been arrested hereabouts, to the authorities, and that he rode on a pass reading "L. C. Bohle and wife." That he omitted to take his wife, but that the person who acted as a deputy marshal on that occasion appears on the records as M. Barnett. At least the government was charged $56 railroad fare for the trip.

"That on Sept. 18, 1900, Marshal Bohle and the same person accompanied Dr. W. W. Brownfield to Fort Smith, Ark., riding on a pass describing "L. C. Bohle and wife," on which occasion the government was charged $24.90 for "guard service."

"That on Oct. 22, 1901, Marshall Bohle took two bad boys and the same deputy to Booneville, Mo., where the Reform School is located, and that the government was charged $10 for the marshal's railroad fare, although a pass for L. C. Bohle and wife covered the transportation.

"That on June 7, 1901, Marshal Bohle and the same deputy took a prisoner named Wilson to Springfield, Ill., on which occasion a pass reading "L. C. Bohle and wife," was used, but the government was charged for railroad fare.

"That on Oct. 30, 1901, Marshal Bohle took one Dr. Chisholm to Nashville, Tenn., riding on a pass; and that the government paid for not only the prisoner's transportation, but for that of Mr. Bohle and a deputy.

"That on June 12, 1901, Mr. Bohle solus, escorted a prisoner named Joseph Blackburn to Jefferson City, riding on a pass for "L. C. Bohle and one," but the government was charged for the full price of two railroad tickets. On this occasion very much to Mr. Bohle's embarrassment, the prisoner escaped at Union Station and was headed off and knocked out by a drayman, all of which impressed the event on the memory of lots of people.

The man who stayed the President's hand and held up a federal appointment never has been before the public as a politician before. Mr. Galvin is proud of the fact that he was once a newsboy. He is now a newsgatherer. To his friends he is "Jim" Galvin, to his intimates, "Red" Galvin, and to his few confidants he is just plain "Red."

In quoting Byron's poetic interpretation or revenge Mr. Galvin sums up the story of his victory over Mr. Bohle—Mr. Galvin avers that the charges cannot fail of undoing his opponent.

HOW GALVIN DID IT.

"How did you accomplish the hold-up of the appointment?" was asked.

"Through my faith in President Roosevelt and the men who surround him," he replied. "I came to know Mr. Loeb, his private secretary, quite familiarly last year, and having noticed that Mr. Roosevelt in no case shows a willingness to put an undesirable man in office, even at the earnest demand of machine partisans who tell him the safety of the party depends on it, I felt encouraged to wire Mr. Loeb that I could prove Mr. Bohle to be unfit for the office he holds. He did not disappoint me. He neither indorsed nor discouraged me. He simply wired me to submit my charges. I've done it.

"If Mr. Bohle feels hurt he has himself to blame. I have furnished merely a sketch of the record which he has deliberately made. Galvin didn't do it. Bohle did it.

"I haven't sent the President any whispering of the winds. I've sent him cold, hard facts, with dates, names of witnesses and United States records to sustain my statements. It makes no difference whether I am great or small, malicious or benevolent. It's not a question of who's Galvin? It's a question of what's Bohle? and it's up to him."

It is said that Senators Cockrell and Vest have taken up Mr. Galvin's charges and are in correspondence with St. Louisans on the subject that they may be in a position to act in case the appointment is made.

Mr. Bohle was not at his office Saturday morning when a Post-Dispatch reporter called to ask him about Galvin's charges.

Missouri Appointments Confirmed.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—The Senate has confirmed the following nominations:

Surveyor of customs—John Albus, Jr., St. Joseph, Mo.

Registers of land offices—J. P. O'Bannon, Springfield, Mo.; C. D. Ford, Denver.

GRAND JURORS EATING AT THEIR WORK TODAY

No Adjournment Will Be Taken Until the Final Report Is Ready.

The grandjury had lunch this afternoon in the office of Scott W. Hancock, assistant circuit attorney, suspending deliberations but a few minutes for it.

During the intermission Circuit Attorney Folk said the new grandjury would devote mornings to the consideration of routine cases and afternoons to municipal corruption investigations.

He said the report of the present jury might be made during the afternoon.

One warrant is known to have been issued for bribery or perjury this morning, but the name has not been made public.

The first witness to appear Saturday morning was Thomas C. Kimber, secretary of the Suburban Railway Co., who, when dismissed by the jury Friday, was told to be on hand Saturday morning at 10 o'clock. Mr. Kimper was kept a long time in the witness room.

"I am qualified as an expert auditor of accounts," said Mr. Kimper, "and, as such, am entitled to good fees. Yet I am compelled to bring the books of the company here and act as an expert at $1 a day. And the state does not even pay the freight for transporting the 300 or 400 pounds of books back and forth."

Summons to appear as witnesses were issued against E. F. Ahle, A. H. Schuerman and A. L. Reed of the Continental Bank early Saturday morning, but at 11 o'clock they had not appeared.

John Helms, a former member of the House of Delegates, was the last witness called Friday night, and was in the jury room until the jury adjourned for the night at 6:45 o'clock. The jury examined all the witnesses who were present before adjourning.

The only witnesses summoned Saturday morning were George P. Heckel, former member of the House of Delegates; T. C. Kimber and Ed Beckman, a stock broker.

Mr. Beckman was a witness Friday and, in spite of the fact that before he went into the grandjury room he announced that he knew absolutely nothing pertaining to the bribery case, he was on the rack a half hour and was told to return Saturday morning.

T. C. Kimber was the first witness called. He entered the inquisition hall at 11:10 o'clock.

WATER FOR MILLIONAIRES.

In one of the witness rooms adjacent to the grandjury room is a hydrant on which stands a drinking cup. It is made of a potted-ham can, with the lid off. Long service has given it a thick coating of rich red rust.

Since this jury has been in session at least half a dozen millionaires have quenched their thirst from it, being the only vessel of the kind in that half of the building.

Saturday morning a former member of the House of Delegates, wandering about in quest of fluid with which to wet the arid area, picked up the cup, but when he saw that it was battered and rusty he put it down with a gesture of disgust.

"Don't be afraid of it," said one of the witnesses, "a half dozen millionaires have been drinking out of it for a week, and a member of the grandjury took a whack at it not five minutes ago."

The former delegate then filled it full of water and drank. He has great respect for millionaires.

George P. Heckel, former member of the Council, was called before the grandjury after Mr. Kimber was dismissed. Mr. Kimber was before the jury about a half hour. Mr. Heckel was formerly connected with several athletic enterprises and was concerned in Athletic Park.

BANK OFFICERS EXCUSED.

Messrs. Able, Schuerman and Reed of the Continental Bank, who were summoned as witnesses, were told over the telephone shortly before noon that they need not appear, as their testimony was not needed. This would indicate that the grandjury has all the testimony necesary to indict. A report is anticipated some time during the afternoon.

It has been noticed during this session of the grandjury that just previous to a crucial point in the proceedings Sheriff Deickman came to the witness room and staid within easy calling distance of the grandjury room. Saturday morning not only the sheriff, but several of his deputies were in the witness room and about the corridor, holding whispered conferences and going and coming. At noon the last witness, Mr. Hecker, called, was with the grandjury, and there were no other witnesses summoned. The dismissal of the Continental Bank officers was thought to show that their testimony was not necessary, and when the testimony of Mr. Heckel should be all in the inquisition would end. The grandjury's report was expected at any moment.

CLOCK WILL BE SET BACK

Grandjurors Anticipate They Will Work Into the Sabbath Day.

Circuit Attorney Folk told the Post-Dispatch this morning that he could not even hazard a guess as to the time the grandjury would finish its work.

As it is the closing day of the session and much remains to be done it is likely the work will be carried far into the night. It is not unlike the closing day of Congress, when loose ends must be picked up and knots tied.

This grandjury has been at work for two months, with the exception of two weeks' recess during the holidays, and the amount of work it has accomplished has been enormous and the preparation of its report, which will be handed to Judge Wood, whose last official act it will be to receive it, entails much labor.

If the jury's work cannot be accomplished within the limits of its time—midnight Saturday—it is likely that scenes similar to those enacted in the Congress of the United States will be gone through in the grandjury room—the clock will be turned back as often as is necessary to give the jury time and prolong the life of the session.

Men who have been around the Four Courts for 25 or 30 years say that within their recollection no session of a grandjury has excited such general public interest as this.

Never before has the jury thought it necessary to station a policeman in the anteroom, nor has the juryroom door ever been so closely watched as Deputy Sheriff Horan watches it. Absolutely nothing has leaked from the inside out.

WHO IS "THE ARTFUL DODGER"

Deputy Sheriffs Are Led a Merry Chase by One Delegate.

Deputy sheriffs are having a merry chase with a bench warrant, issued Friday, after a former member of the House of Delegates who was in the combine when the Suburban bill was pending. Summons was issued on Thursday morning, since which time four deputies have been camping on his trail night and day, but not yet even hit a hot scent. The member may have left the city, but Sheriff Deickman thinks he is only an expert at dodging, so cleverly has he eluded the deputies. Since Thursday morning he has not been seen by any one in an official capacity, although nearly every one on the sheriff's staff has taken the road after him. The sheriff hopes to round up the artful dodger today and bring him into camp, and is somewhat chagrined at his failure to land him.

WEST END GIRL ROBBED ON STREET

MAN IN RAGLAN COAT SNATCHED HER PURSE.

VICTIM MISS LOUISE MYERS

Well-Dressed Thief Jostled Her Vaccinated Arm and Then Took Her Money.

Miss Louise Myers of 3527 Cook avenue was robbed of a purse containing $15 by a daylight highwayman, within a few steps of her home, Friday afternoon.

She started to make a call, and was walking east on the north side of Cook avenue. As she passed the mouth of the alley between Vandeventer avenue and Jones street a well-dressed young man, wearing a long raglan overcoat, walked up behind her. He bumped against her left arm.

"Ouch! My arm!" exclaimed Miss Myers, who had been vaccinated a few days previously.

While her attention was absorbed by the pain in her arm the stranger was running down the street with Miss Meyers' pocketbook.

When she recovered her composure sufficiently to realize that she ought to give chase to the fleeing highwayman he had vanished.

THE WEATHER INDICATIONS.

COLDER.

For St. Louis and vicinity, snow and much colder Saturday night and probably Sunday.

Missouri—Snow and much colder Saturday night, with cold wave in west portion; Sunday partly cloudy and colder, with possibly snow in south and east portions; brisk northerly winds.

SAYS HE REPENTED GIFT

It Was Borrowed From Her Later, She Says, and Has Not Been Returned.

Mrs. Jeanette Frahm of 312 North Channing avenue filed a suit in Justice Walker's court Friday to recover a diamond stud, valued at $250, from Jacob Hoehn of 2.54 Chippewa street.

In the suit Mrs. Frahm names Hoehn's son, J. P. Hoehn, who is a partner of his father, as joint defendant.

Mrs. Frahm alleges that Hoehn gave her the jewel as a birthday present, but that he afterwards repented his act.

She says he borrowed it from her and that it has not yet been returned to her.

The case will be heard Feb. 15.

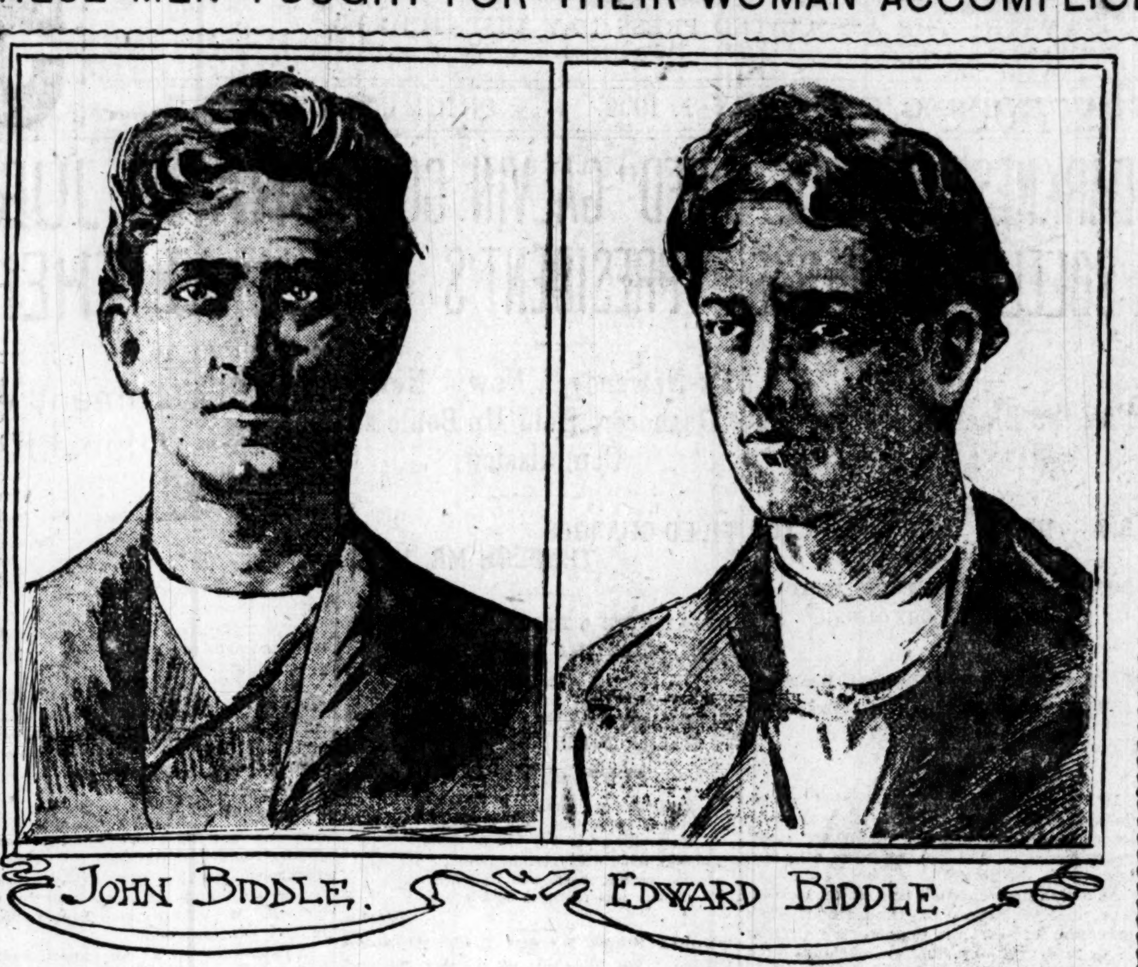
WATER REPORT NEXT FRIDAY

Mayor Wells Will Send Papers to Municipal Assembly Then If Commissioner Hazen Arrives.

Commissioner Hazen has been advised to meet Commissioners Williams and Wisner in St. Louis next Friday. If he does so Mayor Wells will send the majority and minority reports on the water supply plans to the Municipal Assembly Friday afternoon.

It appears that Friday was decided upon as the date of the meeting in deference to the wishes of Commissioner Wisner. His son is to be married in Detroit Wednesday and the city officials did [illegible] wish to make him miss the wedding [illegible] and the [illegible]ing.

THESE MEN FOUGHT FOR THEIR WOMAN ACCOMPLICE



JOHN BIDDLE.
EDWARD BIDDLE.

The Biddle brothers, who escaped from the Allegheny County jail, were recaptured after a desperate fight, in which they tried as last resort to commit suicide and to kill Mrs. Soffel, who aided them to gain freedom.

BIDDLES FOUGHT WITH MRS. SOFFEL TO THE DEATH

Escaped Prisoners Captured After Desperate Battle.

WOULD NOT DESERT WOMAN

BOTH MEN ARE FATALLY INJURED AND SHE IS SERIOUSLY WOUNDED.

Indications and Their Statements Go to Show That When Capture Was Near All Three Tried to Commit Suicide.

BUTLER, Pa., Feb. 1.—The condition this morning of the fugitives from justice, Edward and John Biddle, and Mrs. Kate Soffel, who were wounded in the battle with the Pittsburg and Butler police last evening, has not changed since midnight, except in the case of "Ed" Biddle, who has grown noticeably weaker, and it is believed that his death is now only a matter of a few hours. His temperature is 102, pulse 146, respiration 22, and there is evidence of almost continual internal hemorrhage. Unless peritonitis sets in "Jack" will be taken to the hospital, where an operation will be performed in the hope of saving his life. The doctors have just secured evidence that his bladder was reached by a bullet, but his general condition seems to be good.

Mrs. Soffel is resting easy. Her only wound was made by a bullet which penetrated the left breast. It was from a 32-caliber revolver, and coursed around the rib to the left side, lodging in the shoulder blade. About 3 oclock this morning Dr. G. K. McAdoo operated on her, removing the bullet, and she is in such a condition that her recovery is believed to be a matter of a very short time.

The men who escaped from the Allegheny County jail Thursday with the aid of the warden's wife were captured after a desperate battle at two miles east of Prospect in Butler County. Eight officers, three of them Pittsburg detectives, met the two Biddles and the woman in a one-horse sleigh, stolen at Perryville, and at once opened fire on the trio. The Biddles returned the fire, after jumping out of the sleigh.

In two big sleighs they had followed the escaped prisoners all day. Not one of the officers has a wound to show for the fight.

The Woman's Part in the Battle.

When the detectives got within about 60 yards of the fugitives they opened fire. The Biddles promptly answered with shotgun and revolvers. Mrs. Soffel, too, stood up in the sleigh with a revolver in each hand and blazed away at her pursuers. When Ed Biddle fell and she saw she was about to be captured she fired a bullet into her breast. An examination by physicians shows that she will recover, as the bullet was deflected by her corset, and the wound is comparatively slight.

The story of the fight, as told by one of the detectives, follows:

"The Biddles were sitting on the right side of the cutter. Mrs. Soffel was on the left side. When Detective McGovern called to them to hold up their hands and surrender Ed Biddle jumped up from his seat, and, raising a shotgun, fired it at McGovern. He aimed badly, and the shot scattered along the roadside. Almost simultaneously Detectives McGovern and Roach discharged their Winchesters at Ed Biddle. Both shots took effect. Jack Biddle raised from his seat and discharged his revolver at the three officers. Detective Swinehart steadied himself and fired his 45 Colt revolver at Jack. The ball took effect in Jack's arm. Then the detectives opened a rapid fire on the escapes. The shots knocked them out of the sleigh. Ed fell sprawling on the snow, and Jack fell on top of him, their firearms falling from their hands.

"The Biddles' horse then became frightened and ran away across a field. It was at this time that Mrs. Soffel was seen to collapse in the sleigh. The detectives approached the wounded men, and Detective Swinehart was rushing in on them, when Detective McGovern called to him to stay back, that the Biddles were only feigning. Detective Roach saw Ed Biddle reach in his coat pocket, as if for a gun, and the detective shot him again. Then Detective McGovern ran up within 3 feet of the boys and emptied his Winchester into them. The Biddles then yielded, and Detectives Roach and McGovern handcuffed them, hands and feet, and they were taken to Butler."

Mrs. Soffel, who had fallen from the sleigh when the horse ran away, was picked up and placed in the detectives' large sleigh with her companions and taken to the hospital at Butler.

Mrs. Soffel's Story of the Fight.

Mrs. Soffel tells two stories of the shooting, one to the effect that she shot herself during the fight, and the other that she was shot by Edward Biddle. The bullet did not go through her outer garment, which indicates that the shot was fired by herself or Biddle by putting the hand under the coat.

A legal battle is expected when the Pittsburg authorities arrive today and at the jail, it is said, the only way the Pittsburgers will be able to secure the Biddles will be by a writ of habeas corpus. The Butler authorities are determined to fight against their being taken away.

From the statement made this morning by Jack Biddle in his cell, it is evident that the escaped convicts and their accomplice had arranged to commit suicide in case capture became imminent. In addition, Jack also told how they escaped. Their manner of getting out of jail, according to his statement, was as has already been published. McGeary, he says, fell over the range when he jerked loose from the hold the prisoner had on him.

He says Mrs. Soffel helped them to escape, but would not say she supplied the saws. The sawing of the bars of the cells, he says, was completed before Jan. 14 and that several times previous to the day on which the escape was made their plans failed through some little detail. Jack again reiterated that he never killed anyone, and that he never put a bullet into anyone except Keeper Reynolds. He said the first crime he ever committed was assisting to rob a liquor store at Carnegie, but admitted that he had participated in a number of robberies after that. After they had left the jail they went to a house near a railroad in Pittsburg.

They remained there all of Thursday. The people of the house, Jack said, when they read of the escape from the jail, recognized them, and would only let them remain after the Biddles gave them a "bunch of money."

They remained at the house until Thursday night, leaving it as soon as it grew dark. Jack says he wanted to stay there, and that Ed also was willing to stay, but that "the woman was nervous and afraid they would be caught."

Would Not Desert the Woman.

"I wouldn't let them go alone," Jack said, and as soon as it grew dark we went down the street and took a Perrysville avenue car. We rode to the end of the line, and from there walked until we reached the farm where we stole the horse. If it had not been for the woman we would not have been caught, for we could easily have gotten another horse and, by this time, been more than 100 miles away.

"It's a leadpipe cinch that we would have escaped, but we could not let that poor woman go by herself. She did all she could with us—[illegible]rayed her husband, deserted her f[illegible] all to help us out, and we would [illegible] a great deal worse than we are tho[illegible] if we had thrown her down.

"Whe[illegible] [illegible]ficers coming toward us [illegible]y evening we knew it was all up. We did not fire a shot at the officers, but agreed to kill ourselves. I shot myself in the mouth. Ed shot himself over the heart, and the woman shot herself in the breast. We knew we had no chance to get away, and we knew we would swing if taken back, and that is why we wanted to kill ourselves."

It has been discovered that Jack has two bullet holes through his mouth instead of one, as first thought. One of his other wounds is through his abdomen, and it is thought others will prove fatal as they went into his bowels, because peritonitis usually results from wounds of this kind. Bullets from two of his other wounds about the stomach were taken out this morning.

The Biddles when captured had on the same clothes they wore when they escaped. Jack had, in addition, a light melton overcoat. Mrs. Soffel also had on the clothes in which she left her home. Through Ed's coat there is one bullet hole, but through the dark blue velvet vest he wore are two holes made by the bullets that are lodged near his heart. Jack's coat and vest are literally riddled. There are four holes in the side of the coat and 10 in the right sleeve. The latter appear to have been made by small bullets. Jack's pistol was a cheap 32-caliber affair.

Three of the six chambers of the gun hold empty cartridges. Both of the Biddles were talkative this morning, but both disclaimed ever having killed anyone.

Evidences of Attempted Suicide.

The Kahney murder, Ed alleged, was committed by Walter Dorman, assisted by a man who had that day come from Chicago, and the Seebers woman, who put on a man's suit. This, Ed said, she had often done before when she had assisted them in their robberies. He admitted having committed a great many robberies, but stoutly maintained that he had never killed anyone.

Dr. Bricker is in constant attendance at the cells of the Biddles. He says their wounds will not permit of their being removed, and feels certain that a journey to Pittsburg today would be sure death to "Ed" Biddle. Notwithstanding this, however, it is the intention of the Pittsburg authorities to have them moved to Pittsburg at once, regardless of consequences.

Drs. Greer and Bricker, who have been attending the two Biddles, made a report this morning that apparently confirms Jack Biddle's story that the fugitives had tried to kill themselves. They had come to this conclusion after a complete examination and a partial probing of the wounds of both of the men. Ed Biddle, who is generally supposed to be the worst injured, has several powder marks on his left breast which would go to show that he attempted to kill himself. In Jack's mouth are three bullet wounds, which would be prima facie evidence that he wanted to rid the world of himself. One of the bullets, which evidently came from a revolver, carried away a portion of his tonsil, which the doctors say could only have happened by the holding of a revolver to his own mouth.

The declaration by Edward Biddle that he did not shoot Detective Fitzgerald and was not implicated in the Kahney murder, is given no credence by Superintendent of Police Demmel and Detective Kelly.

As to the Biddles' declaration that neither of them was at the Kahney house the night of the murder, Detective Kelly said:

"That is absurd. Fred Ohlinger positively identified them, as did several others. The Seebers woman was accounted for that night. The Biddles' statement in this regard is absurd, as a preponderance of evidence shows."

Warden Says He Was Chloroformed.

Former Warden Soffel made the startling revelation that he had been under the influence of chloroform during the night when the Biddles broke jail. Mr. Soffel believes the anesthetic was administered by his wife.

The Butler officers demand half the reward of $5000, and in order to hold the prisoners, warrants were sworn out for the Biddles, charging them with felonious shooting in attempting to kill Mrs. Soffel.

District Attorney Haymaker says the position taken by the Butler officials is wholly untenable, and steps will be taken at once to compel them to relinquish their claims.

As there is nothing to hold Mrs. Soffel as a prisoner, Mr. Haymaker will prefer charges against her of felonious assault and battery, and aid in assisting a prisoner to escape from a place of confinement.

Mrs. Soffel Is Growing Worse.

About 10:30 o'clock this morning Mrs. Soffel took a bad turn, and her condition is more serious. She asked for her children, and they will probably be sent for. Edward Biddle is unconscious and breathing heavily. His death may occur at any moment. John Biddle has recovered from the opiates administered, and talks in a boastful strain. The physicians now say that, while he may live several days, his ultimate recovery is deemed impossible.

There is great excitement in the town, and the streets are crowded, large numbers surrounding the hospital. A conflict between the Pittsburg and Butler authorities over the possesion of the prisoners and the right to the reward is confidently expected. The Butler authorities assert that they will not give up the prisoners without a writ of habeas corpus.

Catarrh

The cause exists in the blood, in what causes inflammation of the mucous membrane.

It is therefore impossible to cure the disease by local applications.

It is positively dangerous to neglect it, because it always affects the stomach and deranges the general health, and is likely to develop into consumption.

Many have been radically and permanently cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla. It cleanses the blood and has a peculiar alterative and tonic effect. R. Long, California Junction, Iowa, writes: "I had catarrh three years, lost my appetite and could not sleep. My head pained me and I felt bad all over. I took Hood's Sarsaparilla and now have a good appetite, sleep well, and have no symptoms of catarrh."

License Collector Says He Will Not Run for Office in November.

Joseph P. Whyte, license collector, has announced that he will not be a candidate for election to the office which he now holds by appointment. The term for which he was appointed will expire in November.

The last legislature changed the title of the license commissioner to license collector and made the office elective. The office will be held four years by the man elected next November.

Mr. Whyte is the head of a real estate company and president of the Real Estate Exchange. Under his administration of the office the license revenue in every branch has greatly increased the total gain for one year being estimated at $175,000.

Industrial Commission to Have First Meeting Feb. 19.

NEW YORK, Feb. 1.—Ralph M. Easly, secretary of the industrial commission of the Civic Federation, announced today that a meeting of the commission would be held Feb. 19 in this city to discuss the best method of reaching the various sections of the country. The teamsters' strike in Boston will bring to a head the plans so far under advisement. On this subject Mr. Easly said:

"The plan as immaturely prepared is as follows: We will be forced to appoint auxiliary arbitration committees in all of the large labor centers. It will be necessary to form these committees of representative labor men and employers of those districts.

"One can see at a glance the national scope that the industrial commission will take on when this plan has been adopted. Then labor differences can be taken up and settled immediately."

DELINQUENT WITNESSES FINED.

Blanche Tremble and Ida Hill Didn't Obey Summons.

Blanche Trimble and Ida Hill were fined $5 each by Judge Clark in the court of criminal correction Saturday morning on attachments issued Friday. The women were subpenaed as witnesses and failed to appear.

Blanche Tremble's fine was paid by her father, and in default of fine, Ida Hill was committed to the workhouse.

ASST. CHIEF BARRY RETURNS TO WORK

Went Back to His Old Post Saturday Morning.

SWINGLEY REAPPOINTED HIM

HE WAS DISMISSED FROM THE DEPARTMENT TWO WEEKS AGO.

Potent Point in His Favor Was His Heroic Part in the Southern Hotel Fire in 1876.

As told in the late editions of Friday's Post-Dispatch, Assistant Chief John F. Barry was restored Friday afternoon to his former position in the Fire Department.

Saturday morning Mr. Barry resumed work at his old post, Engine House No. 21, 3417 Manchester avenue.

Mr. Barry was dismissed from the service by Chief Swingley two weeks ago. His removal caused talk of an investigation by the Council, and numerous friends urged his claims for reinstatement. A potent argument in his favor was the part taken by him in the Southern Hotel fire of 1876, when he shared honors with Firemen O'Toole and Hester as a hero of the day.

The legality of the dismissal of an assistant chief was also brought in question, and the opinion was expressed that the chief could remove his subordinates only for cause.

DEEDED LAND WHILE DRUNK.

Court Has Restored James Dole's Property to Him.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

LOCKPORT, N. Y., Feb. 1.—The appellate division of the supreme court has dismissed the appeal in the celebrated case of Dole against Dole, in which an uncle deeded to his nephew a large fortune consisting of Chicago real estate while under the influence of liquor.

The supreme court held that the transfer of the estate was not valid, because James Dole was not in his normal state of mind when the transfer was made.

TURNED OUT TRUE.

Coffee Drinking Responsible.

"At a dinner party a number of years ago a physician made this statement: 'Coffee drinking is responsible for more ills than any other one thing, but it is impossible for me to make my patients believe it.'

"Neither would I believe him but continued to drink my coffee with sweet content. After a time I became aware of the fact that I was frequently lying awake nearly all night without any apparent reason, and the morning found me tired out and nervous.

"The insomnia increased, then came a dull pain at the base of the brain and severe pressure at my heart. My outside work was given up for I could hardly bear the little fatigue of the day. 'Nervous prostration brought on by overwork,' the doctor said. I thought of the words of old Dr. Pagley, 'Coffee is the poison that is responsible,' etc., etc.

"I had heard of Postum Food Coffee and determined to try it. The first cup was so weak and flat that it was not fit to drink. The next time it was prepared I looked after it myself to see that the directions were followed properly. The result was a revelation. I found it a delicious beverage.

"The cure was not wrought in a day but little by little my nerves became strong, the pain ceased, and again I could sleep like a tired child.

"I am now completely restored to health by Postum Food Coffee used in place of ordinary coffee, have regained the fresh complexion of girlhood, and I can realize the truth of the old doctor's statement. I wish people could understand that truth before they permit coffee to break them down.

"I have known of several others who have been restored to health by leaving off coffee and taking up Postum Food Coffee. Please do not publish my name, but I am willing to answer letters of inquiry if stamp is enclosed." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

PRINCE HENR[illegible] TRIP ANNOUNCED

Journey Contemplates Ten Days of Traveling.

COMES TO ST. LOUIS MARCH 3

HE ASKED TO VISIT HARVARD UNIVERSITY AND NIAGARA.

His Private Car Will Be the Most Complete in Its Appointments Ever Turned Out by American Railway Builders.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—The itinerary of Prince Henry's tour has been made public by the committee on arrangements. It gives the precise schedule on which his palatial special train will travel, with the exact length of his stay at every point at which a stop is made. He reaches St. Louis at 7 a. m., Monday, March 3, and will remain four hours.

The trip contemplates ten days of traveling. It includes stops at the only two places in the United States which the prince expressed a special desire to visit—Niagara Falls and Harvard University. The prince will travel in a magnificent train of seven cars, now being fitted out at Philadelphia by the Pennsylvania Railroad. He will occupy a private car alone.

No expense is to be spared in making his private car the most complete in its appointments ever turned out by American railroad builders. The trip will begin at New York on Sunday, Feb. 23, with a visit to Washington. On Tuesday comes the launching of the Meteor. Wednesday will be spent in New York and Thursday in Washington.

Friday he will go to Annapolis. The trip west will begin on Saturday, March 1. Stops will be made at Pittsburg, Columbus and Cincinnati; Sunday will find him at Chattanooga and Lookout Mountain.

Before noon that day he starts for Indianapolis via Nashville and Louisville.

Leaves Indianapolis at 11:16 p. m. Sunday, arrives St Louis 7 a. m.; four hours in St. Louis. Train to remain conveniently located during stay. Leaves St. Louis 11 a. m.; arrive Chicago 6:30 p. m. Monday evening and Tuesday morning in Chicago.

Then comes Milwaukee for six hours of Tuesday. Back to Chicago; he then starts immediately for Boston via Niagara Falls, Rochester and Syracuse.

Thursday will be spent in Boston and at Harvard University. Friday he will be at West Point. Saturday and Sunday he will be in New York City again.

Monday will be spent in Philadelphia.

DEMOCRATS AT THE LACLEDE

State Committeeman Emmett Newton Says Springfield Will Royally Entertain State Democrats.

State Commissioner Emmett Newton of Springfield and G. W. Chinn of Rocheport are at the Laclede. Both belong to the anti-Seibert wing of the committee, but deny being in St. Louis in connection with any further movement to annoy the excise commissioner.

Mr. Newton told the Post-Dispatch that Springfield was already making preparations to entertain the Democratic hosts in royal fashion during the judicial convention next July.

"At present, though, the Democrats in my neighborhood are interested more particularly in the Congressional race," he said. "Judge Cooney of Saline County, who represents the district which includes Springfield, is a candidate for renomination, but we are going to beat him with our own candidate. He is C. W. Hamlin of Springfield. The convention will be held at Sedalia March 12."

There were many other Democratic county politicians about the Laclede Saturday morning and some of them from the southwest portion of the state were earnestly discussing a report that Congressman De Armond had decided to enter the race for the United States Senate against former Gov. Stone and Congressman Champ Clark.

MADE MILLION BY ACCIDENT

John W. Gates' Link Railroads Coup the Result of Guardian Trust Investment.

CHICAGO, Feb. 1.—The sale of certain "link" railroads in the Mississippi and Missouri valleys to the Burlington is said to have brought John W. Gates a profit of a million or more.

The deal, in which the Morgan-Hill pool is the purchaser, is said to involve not less than $10,000,000, and the Kansas City, Peoria & Chicago Railway is thereby absorbed into the Northern Securities Co.

The lines Mr. Gates sells were incorporated into a minor railroad system only a few weeks ago, but it became important to the Burlington to obtain that system to fill up a through line from Kansas City to the Atlantic Coast.

Mr. Gates got into the deal by accident. He bought 100,000 stock in the Guardian Trust Co., an institution promoted by A. E. Stillwell, who then controlled the Kansas City, Pittsburg & Gulf.

Gates did not like the management of the Guardian Trust Co. and he was successful in his application for a receiver. The railroad lines it controlled south from Kansas City fell into the hands of the Harriman syndicate, but the northern railroads were left to the creditors. Then Gates got possession by buying up the claims of creditors.

SPORTING COMMENT

BY J. E. WRAY.

Feb. 1, and still the hostile flags are flying from the National League camps.. One month more and no sign of settlement of the differences that keep apart the two factions. It begins to appear that there will be no settlement at all.

It has been rumored that Boston's owners were willing to adopt the scheme of John Day of New York for a board of regulation consisting of himself and representative from each of the opposing parties.

Boston, however, has done nothing beyond make the assertion that it was, like Barkis, "willin'", while silence from every club in the league has followed the announcement.

Four-club leagues are being talked of, and the fact shows the desperation to which the magnates with money tied up in baseball property are reduced.

Dreyfuss is an advocate of resorting to this plan in case of emergency. Imagine a four-club league between Chicago, Cincinnati, Brooklyn and the Champion Pittsburgs! Brooklyn has lost about all she once had, and the three teams combined could hardly put up a team that would give Dreyfuss' men an argument.

The fact is, unless the warring factions of the National sink their personal differences and come together very quickly, they will stand no chance whatever of anything but financial loss.

The National League was never in a more serious strait than now, notwithstanding the cessation of argument on the part of the magnates. Their very quiescence appears ominous, as the calm before the storm.

If the magnates were wise, they would see that every hour lost in settling their differences is an hour utilized by the American League to popularize its organization. March 1 should not be allowed to roll around without some conclusion having been reached, and a definite line of action taken.

BROAD-RICE BOUT ENDANGERED.

Charles Haughton's next attraction, the "Kid" Broad—Austin Rice bout, seems in jeopardy and in immediate danger of not taking place, if the report from Chicago be believed.

Rice was apparently safely matched with Broad, but unfortunately no conditions were signed. Broad had agreed to fight Rice, but the latter did not have time to secure the agreement that neither should be whipped in the interim.

When, therefore, Johnny Hertz, Benny Yanger's manager, came to Broad with an offer to meet the Chicago man in a battle Monday, antedating the Rice contest, there was nothing to prevent his taking a chance with the Tipton Slasher.

Benny Yanger is a hard man to beat, beyond question, notwithstanding our friend "Mal" Doyle once announced him as a third-rater. He will probably give Kid Broad his evening's entertainment, and if he does it too well Broad as an attraction to show with Rice will be nothing to speak of. President Haughton will call off the battle now arranged in case of the Cleveland boy's defeat.

However, the reports from Chicago were not official, and the Yanger match for next Monday may not have been arranged beyond peradventure.

Nor if it be is it entirely certain that Mr. Broad won't spread Benny all over the arena of the America Athletic Club of the Canal City.

If Broad would train six minutes for a fight instead of five he might be touring the stage and telling ambitious fighters to call in 15 weeks, when he would start receiving.

Mr. "Al" Weinig, the cycler pugilist, who is making a little money and some reputation by defeating all sorts of third-raters in the boxing world, entered the profession in rather a peculiar manner.

Up to a few months ago Weinig had never had a glove on, professionally, and thought himself remarkably ignorant of the game. Some time ago, while in a poolroom at Hot Springs, he pushed his way in to look at the odds posted on a certain horse.

They were remarkably short, and to Weinig it seemed that the figures chalked up against the other horses were not exactly made up with a shade in favor of the public. A sign above the board read: "Track Odds."

WEINIG BECOMES PROFESSIONAL.

Mr. Weinig remarked audibly and sarcastically to a neighbor that the track which would make such odds insulted the public intelligence. He added several impolite remarks relative to the ancestry of the poolroom owners.

The neighbor responded never a word, but reached out and whacked Mr. Weinig a professional soak on the jaw that put him down. The unknown made the mistake of stopping there.

He supposed Weinig repented in sack cloth and mustard plaster having ever opened his head. Instead Weinig was seized with that wild belief that, at that particular moment, there was no one who could stand up before him.

He jumped upon his assailant and—well, the assailant was unable to criticize coherently what any one said, for the next ten days.

Weinig's vanity was tickled over his victory and he inquired who the party defeated was.

It turned out that the fellow was a professional prizefighter who had been employed by the poolrooms.

Weinig, who found picking winners precarious living, and riding a wheel for money still more difficult picking, said to himself:

"Here, if I can beat this professional pugilist in a hurry, I must be a phenom, nicht wahr?"

And in a few months he entered the business. He has still progressed only as far as the vaudeville part, but the man who can chase big Jim Jeffries out of the ring sure can make the "legitimate" sooner or later.

MARTIN MULLEN IN FORM.

Made an Excellent Average in a Practice Game With Sigourney.

NEW YORK, Feb. 1.—Martin Mullen, the millionaire billiardist of Cleveland, former Class A champion of the A. A. U., has met W. H. Sigourney, the Pacific coast champion, in an interesting practice game at the Knickerbocker Athletic Club.

Mullen was in excellent form, and outplayed his opponent from start to finish. He made an average of 16 16-24, and one run of 53. The score was 400 to 223.

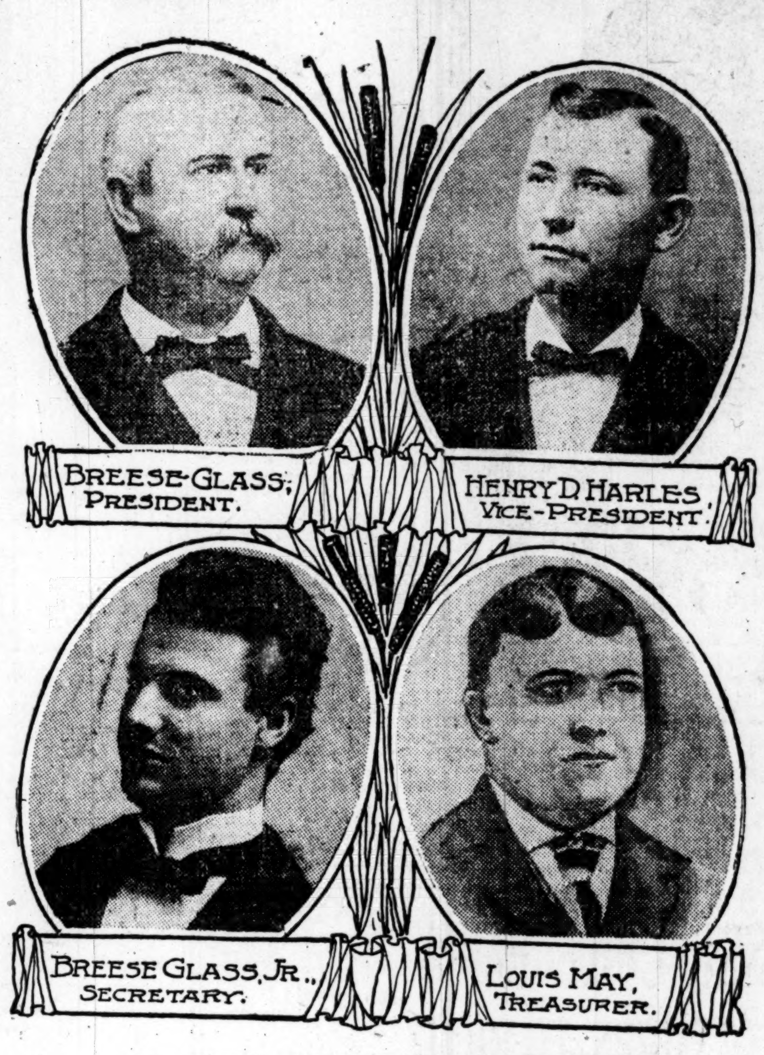
EDWARDSVILLE'S SHOOTING CLUB IS LOOKING FOR AMBITIOUS RIVALS



BREESE GLASS, PRESIDENT.
HENRY D. HARLES, VICE-PRESIDENT.
BREESE GLASS, JR., SECRETARY.
LOUIS MAY, TREASURER.

AMATEUR GUN CLUB'S OFFICERS

Edwardsville's (Ill.) population, or that part of it which belongs to the Amateur Gun Club, is looking for trouble. It is hunting for competition, and if any teams that are handy with the gun on the range or in the field think they can quench the thirst of the club's members for victory, an opportunity will be granted them if they apply to President Breese Glass.

The Edwardsville organization has a standing challenge out for friendly competition to all clubs in the vicinity. Acceptances have not been frequent of late, and the club members are beginning to believe they have "bluffed" the neighborhood.

The Amateur Gun Club is one of the features of Edwardsvile. The oldest inhabitant points to it with pride and includes it in his catalogue of interesting points of the city. The club is not anywhere near his age, however, having been brought into being in 1894. Its original object, as shown by the by-laws, was trap shooting and the protection of game and fish.

So many good shots have developed in the club, however, that the "protection" gained in one way is lost in another, as nearly all of the 25 members of the organization can fill a duck full of No. 7 even when he is breaking up housekeeping and moving south in a hurry.

The members of the club have participated in many Illinois and Missouri shoots. Breese Glass is the veteran of the organization, and wears many medals, one of them being a trophy emblematic of the Illinois individual championship.

There are at present 25 members of the club who are to be found regularly on the range at the Driving Park which the club has leased for a number of years.

The officers of the organization follow: Breese Glass, president; Henry D. Harles, vice-president; Breese Glass, Jr., secretary; Louis May, treasurer; John Dotterway, Charles F. Cook and John Grigsby, trustees.

Mr. Glass, the president, is a practicing attorney of Edwardsvile and former state's attorney of Madison County.

In the World's Fair League St. Louisianas defeated the Towers Friday by 4 to 1. The former team was much the better. Hoberg and Becker were the stars of the winners, while Teuscher and Oberkircher excelled for the Towers. Summaries:

BIG POOL TOURNEY IS NOW PLANNED

The World's Championship and $1000 Will Be the Prizes of Victory.

NEW YORK, Feb. 1.—What promises to be the most important pool tournament held in this country in ten years is being arranged by Clarence E. Green of Brooklyn, to take place as soon as the entry lists have been filled, probably early in March, at Montauk Billiard Parlors, Brooklyn. The entries will include all the great players of the world.

The contest will be open to every pool player on the map and a trophy, emblematic of the championship of the world, at the pool game, will be part of the victor's reward.

The rest of the reward will consist of money prizes to the amount of $1000.

A special gallery is being built in the Montauk to accommodate expected crowds. A manufacturing firm has contributed, for the use of the contestants, the finest table in its establishment.

Manager Green states that he is not only after the entries of pool players with reputations, but also those of rising young players who have come up recently and who may have a chance with some of the older stars.

Owing to the probable size of the entry list, preliminaries may have to be played off to decide which contestants can qualify for the finals. In these matches, as in the championship match, prizes will be offered to place positions in the preliminaries.

With such an open contest, any new stars that may have arisen in the country should be sure to shine. If a newcomer should win, the greater glory would be his.

GARDNER FOULED, BUT ROOT WON

Chicago Pugilist Had the Battle Won Though Decision Was Rendered on a Foul.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 1.—George Gardner of Lowell, Mass., lost to Jack Root of Chicago on a foul in the seventh round of a battle that was all in favor of the Chicago fighter.

The battle was one of the best seen here for some time, and was spiritedly contested from the opening to the time Gardner dropped Root to the floor with a blow in the groin in the seventh

The fight was scheduled to go 20 rounds, and the men weighed in at 165 pounds.

Root proved a different antagonist for Gardner than Kid Carter.

The men fought evenly up to the second round, when, toward the close, Root practically put one of Gardner's eyes out of business for the time. In the fourth round Gardner, notwithstanding his bad eye, found Root's jaw with a hard right that sent the Lowell man down for a count of four. Clever work in the clinching saved Root more punishment.

In the sixth round Gardner was landing low and twice a claim of foul was made against him, but was ignored. Nevertheless Root had his man showing distress signals at the end of the interval.

In the seventh and what turned out the final round Root kept to his task and had Gardnes fighting wild. After a minute and one-half of this sort of work Gardner started to rip his right into Roots' stomach.

Root closed in at that moment and Gardner, unable to withhold the blow hammered the Lowell fighter terrifically in the groin.

Root dropped groaning to the canvas, while Gardner was dragged to his corner by his trainers. Gardner was roundly hissed by the 7000 people present, and applauded Root when he was sufficiently recovered to leave the ring.

Referee promptly upon the blow of Gardner, awarded the fight to Root. It was his battle in any case.

Gardner states that his foul was entirely unintentional.

No Serious Injuries From Wreck of Cleveland Flyer.

PITTSBURG, Feb. 1.—The Cleveland "flyer" on the Pitsburg & Lake Erie Railroad due here at 6:05 o'clock this morning, was wrecked at Groveton, near Coraopolis, Pa. One day car was thrown on its side, and the 30 or 40 occupants tumbled about, but no one was seriously injured. The sleeper, which was in the rear, was not damaged.

KID BROAD WHIPS TOMMY SULLIVAN

The Cleveland Featherweight Pounded His Opponent to the Ten Count.

CHICAGO, Feb. 1.—After six rounds of fighting, four of which were tame, Kid Broad of Cleveland, who is matched to box 15 rounds with Austin Rice of Connecticut in St. Louis, Feb. 10, was given the decision over Tommy Sullivan of Brooklyn, in a bout at the Illinois Club last night.

In the fifth round Broad let out a rap and fought Sullivan all over the ring. Eventually he got in a hard right to his opponent's ear and down went Mr. Sullivan. He bounced up again, and again his head collided with Broad's right. Sullivan went down for the count of ten. He got up just as the referee was making the final count.

Broad, in the meantime, had turned his back and was walking to his corner. Sullivan rushed up behind him and landed on Broad's jaw, but he had no steam.

The blow served to start Mr. Broad's dander and he turned upon the hapless Sullivan and mauled him all over the ring. A knockout seemed inevitable, when Sullivan fortunately fell into a clinch, which saved him. Sullivan was barely able to stagger to his corner at the close of the round.

He pulled together his scattered faculties during the minute's intermission and started out to fight back, but Broad would have none of it and hammered him again. Clinching again saved Sullivan from going the knockout route.

The fight was easily Broad's on the last two rounds, though the earlier fighting was feeble on both sides. The men met at catch weights and Broad was at least six pounds the heavier.

HEIKES BROKE SHOOT RECORD

Champion Scored 99 Out of 100 Clay Targets in Competition at Waco Trap Shooting Tournament.

WACO, Tex., Feb. 1.—In the midwinter shoot of the Waco Gun Club, now in progress in this city, Rollo O. Heikes of Toledo, O., broke the world's record Friday afternoon for clay pigeon shooting.

Shooting from the 19-yard mark, he broke 99 out of 100 and made a straight run of 89. He is already the champion.

Athletic Notes.

Washington University is expecting riotous times next Thursday when the annual election of officers to the various athletic organizations of the institutions takes place.

Right straight through the list of officials a double slate has been set up by opposing factions, and both sides are prepared to fight it out to the last.

The affair is one of the usual fraternity squabbles that usually embroil participants in university elections. Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Beta Theta Pi and Phi Delta Theta organizations are the particular societies concerned in the local university spat.

One of the biggest fights of the day will be over the election of a manager for the football team during the coming season. Wayne Smith and Newman Samuels, manager and assistant manager respectively of last season's team, are the opposing candidates for the office.

Both are popular, but Wayne Smith apparently meets with more favor from the graduate management of athletics at the university than does Samuels, and will probably be chosen.

Other officers to be balloted for are president, vice-president, secretary and treasurer of the University Athletic Association, and managers for the tennis tournament and crew.

Washington University's football team for next season will have a schedule in 1902 to surpass that of the past year. It will include games with several big institutional teams of the Middle West, some of them to be played in St. Louis. One with Chicago University, to be played in the Windy City, is almost certain, though not concluded at present. Wayne Smith and Charley Reber have concluded that the 1902 Washington aggregation will be better able to handle the big elevens than that of last season and will not hang back from engagements because of the strength of opponents.

Sears Lehmann, Washington's fullback, whose leg was seriously injured in play during the season, is still limping about from hurts received months ago. A torn tendon that is healing slowly is the cause of his troubles. Washington may lose the service of this valuable player next season, owing to parental objections. Lehmann pere protested long and vigorously last season, it is said, and, after his boy was hurt, brought out the "I told you so" game on his son.

With Lehmann out of the game there will be a big hole at fullback unless incoming material can supply an equally good man. As Lehmann was about the best in the state last season and was promising more for this year, it is certain that nothing but a star from outside points could mend matters.

Washington University's crew is still continuing its efforts to get into the aquatic game and will reorganize for the coming season. E. T. Senseney will probably be chosen manager for the season.

"ST. PETER IS NOT READY FOR ME YET"

—JOHN BRAUN.

Phenix Milling Co. Man Drinks Laudanum.

THEN THERE CAME A TAPPING

ALERTB HARMON, AN EAST ST. LOUIS SALOON MAN, HEARD IT.

The Tapping Broke the Window Pane and an Ice-Covered Figure Was Saved From an Upward Flight.

"St. Peter is not ready for me yet, but I'll get there," remarked John Braun, who had taken laudanum in mistake for whisky and lain eight hours in the snow and ice of a street in East St. Louis.

Bartender Albert Harmon, in the saloon of Adolph Bade at Fifteenth street and Broadway, East St. Louis, says that a man who can crack a joke while in the condition in which Braun was when he made the remark quoted ought to have a free pass to the regions at the door of which St. Peter is supposed to be the outside guard.

"A man who is half poisoned and nearly frozen to death," said Harmon, "and yet can be witty, ought to go to heaven, oughtn't he?"

Braun tapped on the window of Bade's saloon at 3:30 o'clock Saturday morning. Harmon heard the tap, but thought it was a sort of Poe's Raven tapping, for Harmon was half asleep.

Finally Braun tapped louder and broke the pane. Harmon went out to investigate. A startling apparition met his eyes.

There stood a man, haggard and white, with a coat of ice on his hands, face and clothing. He could scarcely open his mouth, but he managed to make the remark concerning St. Peter.

The bartender took the man in and thawed him out. Then the stranger told a remarkable story.

He said he lived at 1150 North Twentieth street, St. Louis, and was employed by the Phenix Milling Co.

"I came over here last night on business, as I frequently do," continued Braun. "In my pocket were two bottles, on containing laudanum, which I used on account of the toothache, and the other containing whisky.

"Feeling cold I thought a little whisky would do me good. I pulled out a bottle and drank several tablespoonfuls. I soon discovered that I had drunken from the laudanum bottle.

"After that I knew little or nothing except that I got so drowsy that I couldn't stand up. I must have fallen down, for I awoke just a little while ago and found myself lying on the ground, almost covered with snow and ice."

Braun had dragged himself two blocks to reach the saloon, seeing a friendly light. He could scarcely stand, and could not walk.

He said he drank the laudanum about 7:30 o'clock in the evening. If that is true he must have lain in the snow about seven hours.

Braun is well dressed and is about 35 years old. He was sent to St. Mary's Hospital.

"Biggest and Best."

The American Newspaper Directory, Geo. P. Rowell & Co., New York, issued a list of papers, one from each state, selected by them, upon investigation, as the largest circulated paper in the state. The St. Louis Post-Dispatch, as everybody knows, has the post of honor for the state of Missouri in this list. George P. Rowell & Co. might have truthfully added, the largest in any state between the Mississippi river and Pacific ocean

FIREMAN LOST PURSE AT FIRE

Contained His Salary and Was Hastily Stuffed in Pocket When the Alarm Sounded.

Alfred Crouch, engineer of Fire Company No. 13, the headquarters of which are at 1015 North Eleventh street, lost $29 and his wedding ring while driving to a fire in the vicinity of Sixth and Morgan streets at 5:45 o'clock Friday afternoon.

Crouch had just returned to the engine house after cashing his monthly salary check, and was changing his clothing when the alarm was sounded. Hastily stuffing a pocketbook containing the money and ring into his coat, he jumped on the engine and drove out in response to the alarm.

After reaching the fire he missed the purse, and, though he carefully searched the route the engine traversed in making the trip, failed to find it .

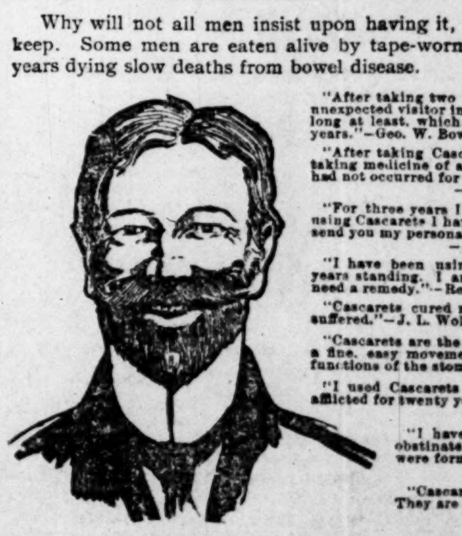
WHERE ARE SMOKE ABATERS?

Smoke Inspector Jones' Deputies Find Only Eighty-Three.

Smoke Inspector Jones' deputies are endeavoring to learn how each of the smoke-emitting factories and establishments in St. Louis is supplied with smoke-abating facilities, if they are supplied at all.

These deputies have already visited 621, but there are about 1000 more yet to be examined.

Of the 621, Mr. Jones announces, 83 have been found with smoke-abating appliances that were useless, and 215 without any smoke-abating appliances at all.



The Health of a Manly Man

Why will not all men insist upon having it, when it is so easy to get and to keep. Some men are eaten alive by tape-worms, others wander hopelessly for years dying slow deaths from bowel disease.

"After taking two Cascarets, there came on the scene a very unexpected visitor in the shape of a tape-worm eighteen feet long at least, which I am sure caused my bad health for three years."—Geo. W. Bowles, Baird, Miss.

"After taking Cascarets I have had a natural relief without taking medicine of any sort during the past two weeks. This had not occurred for 18 years."
—Chas. E. Penny, 601 Yates Ave., Brooklyn.

"For three years I have been afflicted with diabetes. Since using Cascarets I have found great relief and feel that I must send you my personal recommendation."
—C. H. Lyman, 813 West Ave., Buffalo, N. Y.

"I have been using Cascarets for stomach trouble of six years standing. I am cured and recommend them to all who need a remedy."—Rev. E. M. Chandler, Mill P. O., Mo.

"Cascarets cured me of the piles, with which I had long suffered."—J. L. Wolleson, Perry, Oklahoma.

"Cascarets are the only remedy I have ever used that cause a fine, easy movement of the bowels without impairing the functions of the stomach."—Chas. S. Campbell, Sunbury, Pa.

"I used Cascarets for insomnia, with which I have been afflicted for twenty years. They gave me immediate relief."
—Thos. Gillard, Elgin, Illinois.

"I have given Cascarets a thorough trial in an obstinate case of constipation at a time when piles were forming. It yielded nicely to the treatment."
—T. Dale Givan, M. D., Nixa, Mo.

"Cascarets cured me of flux of long standing. They are worth their weight in diamonds."
—Leopold Kahn, Wapakoneta, Ohio.

Business as well as social life of today is one of strain and effort, and the struggle for existence in competition makes life a fight day in day out, in which care of body, nerves, blood is more or less neglected. Men wonder what's wrong with them. No man can stand such unnatural conditions unless he counteracts them by using Cascarets Candy Cathartic, causing regularity of body in spite of irregularity of habits. A man who "feels bad" should take Cascarets, find out what's wrong and be cured.

Twice as big as any other paper in St. Louis and suburbs.......

The rough rider of the White House may easily perceive that the high tariffers are in the saddle.

Friday's indictments prove the danger of telling the grandjury under oath things that are not so.

A British sloop of war is called the Buzzard. A better name could scarcely be found for a war vessel used in expansion wars.

The Prince of Wales is said to be much gratified at his reception in Germany. Cold air seems to agree with him, even when it amounts to a frost.

Cannot the penitentiary be adorned with at least one specimen of each class of the genus boodler—the bribe-giver, the go-between and the official boodler?

There is to be an order in New York that no persons shall be allowed to stand in theater aisles. Something of this sort is needed in street cars as well as in theaters.

Mr. Hitchcock of New York, who refuses to give up his theater box for a prince, and calls the President "Teddy," is sufficiently American. He may some day be called upon to read the Declaration of Independence to his fellow citizens.

THE PRESIDENT'S ORDER

Is there any force in the President's executive order forbidding employes of the United States to solicit an increase of pay or attempt to influence legislation in their own interest?

The first amendment to the constitution is as follows: "Congress shall make no laws respecting an establishment of religion, or prohibiting the free exercise thereof; or abridging the freedom of speech or of the press; or the right of the people peaceably to assemble, and to petition the government for a redress of grievances."

Then, so far as legislation is concerned, a letter carrier or carriers may ask a Congressman to introduce a bill in the interest of carriers and urge its passage. Or they may write to the newspapers advising such a measure. Or they may go to Washington in a body and petition Congress to do this, that or the other thing for them.

Can the President accomplish by an executive order what the House of Representatives, the Senate and the President cannot accomplish by legislation? Can the President by exercising his power of removal annul this constitutional article so far as it applies to government employes?

Possibly the strong anti-British feeling in Germany may not prevent the filling of the British order for 10,000 horses of Prussia for service in South Africa. The price of 10,000 horses is not to be sneezed at in Germany more than in the United States.

A VITAL DISTINCTION.

The statement of casualties issued by the British war office is not calculated to inflate the pride of the British people.

Since the war in South Africa began, and up to Dec. 1, 1901, 18,964 officers and enlisted men have been killed in action, died of wounds or succumbed to disease, while 64,000 have been sent home invalided.

All this slaughter, be it remembered, is in war with a nation of peasants, whose reputed war strength, small as it was, was called by Cecil Rhodes an "unpricked bubble. It does not seem to be a bubble.

Financially, the war has already cost $800,000,000. The London newspapers admit that this is a huge sum, but one of them, the Daily Graphic, finds comfort recalling the cost of the Peninsular war, which, in two years, cost an equal sum. "Our fathers footed the bill then," says the Graphic, "and we shall foot the bill now."

Perhaps so, but the Peninsular was a patriotic war, upon the issue of which depended, to a considerable degree, the very existence of the empire. The Transvaal war is a marauding expedition, undertaken by the government in the service of private interests and so far as anybody can see, the British people who pay the bills will get no part of the spoil. There is reason to believe that public opinion in the British Islands is beginning to recognize this vital distinction.

The coal consumer is rejoiced to learn that for the present at least the proposed Indiana and Illinois coal combine is not to be organized. His only escape from the hard coal combine is in soft coal.

MOHAVES AND FEBRUARY WEATHER

The government is trying to induce the Mohave Indians to uncivilize themselves to the extent of going back to grass and stick made huts, in place of living in "white men's houses," built with walls that keep out drafts and cold.

This is because the Mohaves are dying out of consumption, for lack of that abundance of fresh air which was the daily blessing of their forefathers. In former days they got sick and died, but not especially from catching cold, although they lived in continual drafts. Now they are pampered and safeguarded against the access of cold air, and the result is likely to be their destruction.

Does this not go to show that it is wiser for us, in this bleak and disagreeable February weather, to get out of doors as much as possible, lest we become weak hothouse plants, liable to be the prey of every creeping air that finds its way to our warm corners of the house?

It is better to live in a shack, to get up and make the fire with the mercury at zero, and to have to tramp all day through snow and slush, than to get soft and sickly as these Indians have done. Let us defy the weather, and it will become a blessing to us.

If Mr. Schwab has found everywhere in Europe a determination to fight Yankee commerce to the last gasp, American goods may soon have to pay very stiff duties to get into foreign ports.

TO MEN STRENGTH; TO WOMEN BEAUTY.

Mr. Henry T. Finck, who has a genius for turning up odd facts and little known truths, writes in the Independent of beauty as woman's sphere.

"In proportion as men acquired the aesthetic sense," he says, "they saw that beauty was woman's real sphere, and therefore began to treat her in such a way that it became possible for her to unfold her charms of body and mind, and make them her specialty for her own sake as well as for man's. This was the first and most important [illegible] 'woman's rights' granted her by man. But before he could [illegible] this boon deliberately he had to make the discovery that she could not compete with him in trials of strength and be beautiful at the same time, and thus, in the course of time, was established the real antithesis between the sexes—strength in man, beauty in women."

Remember that antithesis is not antagonism, but rather it indicates the two opposites, the reconciliation and fusion of which consitute the unity which is the real life.

A man by himself is a half truth; a woman by herself is a half truth. Antithetical and partial, together they make the individual which unfolds into the family and society.

Secretary Hay's spelling of "honor" after the manner of the English, which is "honour," has attracted some attention. If a member of the Cabinet cannot be an Englishman he can at least adjust his spelling and pronunciation to the English idea.

THE AGENTS OF CORRUPTION.

Next in point of offensiveness and danger to the "respectable" plunderers who fill their pockets by putting up boodle funds to elect dishonest men to office and debauch men in office are the rascally go-betweens, the agents of corruption who deal with boodlers and manage boodle combines for "fees."

Ed Butler's brazen advertisement of his business as a boodle boss and manager of legislative jobs threw a clear light on the methods of these light-fingered and unscrupulous agents of corruption. As Mr. Butler's interview indicates, it has been a flourishing business in St. Louis. It has flourished for so long that he has been enabled to develop the expertness of which he boasts and to accumulate a fortune by corrupt "fees."

The process of corruption is made plain. Respectable plunderers covet valuable public property in the form of franchises. They put up boodle funds and find a professional corruptionist to handle the money and make the deal for votes with the official boodlers. The boodle combine is formed and the agent authorized to manage the job. Out of this combine, organized to plunder the city for "respectable" and wealthy franchise grabbers, flows the stream of corruption at the city hall—the contract jobs and the "hold-up" of merchants and manufacturers.

The Suburban boodle deal is a pattern of all, save in respect to indictments. Fortunately, by a masterstroke of swiftness and energy, Mr. Folk got the evidence of this deal before the money had been paid, and found the boodle funds in the safety deposit boxes.

The circuit attorney should go after all three classes of criminals. The bribe-giver, the go-between and the official boodler should stand in the dock together. They should go to the penitentiary together as an impressive warning.

When the law has been vindicated by the punishment of the criminals the people of St. Louis should consider the state of the community and take action which will safeguard public property in the future.

A tip to American university students: Don't let Prince Henry hear the college yells.

SMOOTH SILVER COINAGE GOOD.

Judge Ryan's decision that there are "no bad nickels" covers as well all other silver subsidiary coins.

The information is new to many people that worn, smooth silver coins are good and will be exchanged at the subtreasury for new pieces. Mutilated coins or those with holes in them or names stamped upon them are rejected, but the smooth piece "goes."

This should remove friction and save a multitude of petty annoyances. Railroad companies, storekeepers and business men generally should take the smooth coins and exchange them. If all would take this interest in the matter every worn nickel, dime, quarter and half in the country would disappear in a week.

The purchase of 15,000 German bayonets by Chili so soon after the Pan-American conference's approval of arbitration is not a very peaceful indication. Besides, all the republics to the south of us ought to buy their arms in the United States.

Our military commanders in the Philippines have been instructed not to relax in the severity of their treatment of active "insurgents." The Filipino must and shall be assimilated.

It looks as if our South Carolina tea industry is to be "busted," for free tea is now the talk in Washington. Yet the tea industry is the smallest of our infants.

POST-DISPATCH SNAP SHOTS.

The T Congressional district of Missouri has nothing in common with the tea district of South Carolina.

The reduction in the beer tax will be something like a subsidy for that sort of shipping in which the schooner figures.

A St. Louis hunter has gone to Africa to fight the tiger, but this does not mean that the tiger cannot still be fought in St. Louis.

As the war tax on pawnbrokers is to be repealed, many nephews will expect their uncle to be a little more liberal in his advances.

The new State of Washington proposes to put a round $100,000 into her World's Fair exhibit. George would be proud of her if he could know it.

With one Congressman raising a breed of tailless dogs and another producing a new kind of poker game, it is easy to perceive how useful our statesmen may become.

Beer and tobacco have paid $168,000,000 of our expenses growing out of the Spanish war. Beer consumers and tobacco chewers and smokers feel as if they had saved the country.

A princess of India has been snowballed out of Chicago by the young barbarians of that city. Precautions may have to be taken for the protection of Prince Henry while he is in the Windy.

The chasing of Paderewski by a piano on a ship at sea recalls Victor Hugo's story of the gun that got away from some French gunners. It would be interesting to see what an automobile would do on the deck of a ship in a gale.

ANSWERS TO CORRESPONDENTS.

K. S.—Legal questions are not answered.

C. B.—Paganini was born in 1782; died in 1840.

SUBSCRIBER.—We don't answer legal questions.

MAY BROWN.—All the members of his family should call on the lady immediately.

STRANGER.—(1) Call on clerk of Circuit Court. (2) We don't answer legal questions.

CONSTANT READER.—Ask your own pastor and let the young man consult the priest of his parish.

ANXIOUS.—Anna Eva Fay was in Milwaukee last week. Don't know when she will be in St. Louis.

READER.—Your newspaper of 1800 is probably not rare and has no value. But call at Public Library.

MUSIC LOVER.—No, the lady doesn't give music lessons; that is, she has not set up as a music teacher. But she will give instruction in harmony to those recommended by the Choral-Symphony. See the secretary, Milton B. Griffith, Odeon building.

M. S.—Sorry, but it's a long time since the answerer played with tetraedrons and polyedrons, and he has forgotten how to carve them geometrically. Besides, to solve the problem would require space for figures and diagrams which we cannot spare.

FRANK JONES.—Go to Public Library and see courses of reading. You can educate yourself there. Meanwhile, when you write letters don't use a pencil; and when you seek a courtesy don't ask for it on a smudgy post card. Your note is hardly decipherable.

A. J. M.—"How many years does it take to count a bill on, day and night?" Don't know. Nobody ever tried it. When the answerer gets a few years off he will put them in in this way and let you know. Seriously, calculating to count one every second, it would take 22 years and 6 months nearly.

H. D. B.—Author (1) "John Halifax," Miss Mulock; "Ramona," Mrs. H. H. Jackson; "Romola," George Eliot (Marian Evans); "Vision of Sir Launfaul," James Russell Lowell; "Casabanca," Mrs. Hemans; "Old-Fashioned Girl," Miss Alcott; "Princess," don't know, unless you mean Tennyson's poem of that name.

SUBSCRIBER.—A depot is a place of deposit for goods. A station is a stopping place for stage or railway trains. The use of the word "depot" instead of station is an Americanism. If he pleads guilty of murder in the first degree and the plea is accepted he must be sentenced to hang. The governor may commute the sentence.

M. L. GRAY.—"I was speaking with a man today." Hardly. "Speaking to" is better; or, if you wish to signify a dialogue, say "I was conversing with a man, etc." "I come for to see you regarding, etc." Certainly not. How can you be in doubt? Strike out the "for." "We are after having a drive to the park." No strike out the "after." But an Irishman may use this form when he is in good humor.

Meeting Strikes in Spain.

From a Letter by Walter Williams.

Wages in Spain are very low. There are labor unions, lockouts and strikes here as in the United States. The communist is abroad in the land. The government adopts an odd course when a strike is inaugurated. If it cannot bribe the leaders in the strike it contributes money to the mill owner to enable him to crush out the strike. The workman in a shoe factory at Barcelona receives about $2 a week for the same labor for which would be paid $2 a day in the United States. He is not nearly so good a workman, however.

JUST A MINUTE WITH POST-DISPATCH POETS, HUMORISTS AND PHILOSOPHERS

ONLY THREE MINUTES MORE.

(To Dr. Hill, chairman of the national committee of entertainment for Prince Henry. Air, "Give Me Three Grains of Corn, Mother.")

Give us three minutes more, doctor, only three minutes more!
'Twill give our drooping hopes a heft and make our spirits soar.
They're "sore" already, Dr. Hill, since you have chopped us down
To just three hours and one small half in this unlucky town;
But if you'll let Prince Heinrich stay three hours and thirty-three We'll make you President some day, so grateful will we be.

Give us three minutes more, doctor! it isn't much we ask.
In Heinrich's smile three minutes more we crave the boon to bask.
We starve for just a teeny glance, a chance to touch his hand;
This hunger for the Prussian prince is more than we can stand!
We know that with these minutes three we'll all have time to feel
That Hank has been here, anyhow—wherefore this prayerful spiel.

Give us three minutes more, doctor! we plead! we do implore.
That you may hand us out this boon—
three midget minutes more!
What time will Henry have to drink und hoch der Kaiser here
In our brau hauser, where we'd pledge his health in foaming beer?
Give us three teeny minutes more, that we mit song und stein
May meet and greet this royal gent from Bingen on the Rhine.

Give us three minutes more, doctor! what ho! is there no hope?
Shall hunger, like a canker, kill, or shall we swallow dope?
Alas, we perish! we are lost! and yet
from early grave
By giving us three minutes more you might preserve and save!
For this small boon we sweat, we swoon!
His Highness—must he fly
So fast? O Dr. Hill, be good—relieve us ere we die!

We've Got 'Em.

For skies that sag; for men that see
No evil meaning in a "fee;"
For smoke that stays; for roofs that drip,
St. Louis holds the championship.

Mrs. Pat Campbell did not have to go to Monte Carlo to win $22,000 at bridge whist. She did it right in New York, yet she got just as much advertising as Mr. Schwab.

If Marconi would only invent a system of wireless politics, St. Louis would be willing to invest—oh, well, say about $145,000 in the enterprise.

Now the men who had a "barrel" are in a box, and the grandjury is nailing down the lid.

A fee by any other name would look just as good to a man who likes that kind of money.

STORIES OF CHILDREN.

Aunt Mary: Does your teacher employ the object system in teaching?

Little Nellie: I think so. She's always objecting to something or other.

Mamma: Now, Harry, you must not eat any more plum pudding. It will make you ill.

Harry: Oh, don't let that worry you, mamma. It won't hurt you and I'm willing to take chances.

"I know what makes the hail and snow," said 4-year-old Agnes.

"What, darling?" asked her mother.

"The angels up in heaven sweeping off the sidewalks," was the reply

Little 5-year-old Bessie has just paid her father a visit at his office and was much interested in the working of a typewriter. Upon her return home she exclaimed: "Oh, mamma, I saw papa's dressmaker write a letter on her sewing machine!"

Small Georgie was looking at a book containing pictures of various animals. "Mamma, who made camels?" he asked.

"God, my dear," replied the mother. "Many years ago people used them instead of horses."

"That must have been before God learned how to make horses," commented the little fellow.

Little Flossie had been sent to the drug store to get some dyestuff and forgetting the name of it she asked: "What is it folks dye with?"

"Oh, various things," replied the druggist. "Heart failure, for instance."

"Well," said Flossie, "I suppose that will do. Give me 3 cents' worth, please."

Mamma: Willie, what's the baby crying for?

Willie: Oh! he's ungrateful; that's what he is.

Mamma: Ungrateful?

Willie: Yes'm. I jest showed him how to eat his cake and he didn't 'preciate it.—Philadelphia Press.

"Suppose, Bobby, that another boy should strike your right cheek," asked the Sunday school teacher, what would you do?"

"Give him the other cheek to strike," said Bobby.

"That's right," said the teacher.

"Yes'm," said Bobby, "and if he struck that I'd paralyze him."—Exchange.

Six-year-old Eric found it dull work playing football alone. Why shouldn't mother play too? There she was sitting sewing in the drawing room. "Mother, come out and have a game at football with me!"

"Can't play, dear boy."

"That's the worst of having a woman for a mother!" Eric scornfully remarked as he strutted off.

Mother: No, Georgie I think you must not have any pineapple. It might give you pain.

Georgie (after a pause): Mother, it's worth it.

WHY BOER WAR IS PROLONGED.

When William H. Crane, the comedian, was last in London he was invited to dine at the House of Commons Restaurant, and his host ordered a bottle of Irish whisky, from which he poured frequently and copiously.

"Say," said Mr. Crane, "do all you English statesmen partake as liberally and as frequently of that liquid as this?"

"We do," said the host.

"Well, all I've got to remark is that I'm not surprised that the Boer war continues," said Mr. Crane.

AS WOMEN KNOW.

Love may be joy unspeakable, and love
May be a woe too deep for moans and tears;
Love may be chrism of blessing poured above
The quiet days of uneventful years;
And love may sometimes be just patience, spent
In trying how to find and keep content
Whate'er it be, true love is crown or cross,
Infinite gain, or woe of bitterest loss.

SAYINGS AND DOINGS OF STATESMEN AND OTHERS

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 31.—Statuary Hall may be properly described as a National Hall of Fame. In this, the old House of Representatives of the capitol, each state is permitted to place the statutes of two of its distinguished sons. The hall has just been reopened to the public after being modernized with a new roof and other up-to-date building appliances. There has been a stress of anxiety as to whether the "whispering echoes" would disappear with the old roof. Every precaution was taken to prevent this. Exact precaution was taken to prevent this. Exact measures of the old pieces were taken and they were duplicated in the new. The echoes remain and there is great rejoicing among the guides.

The famous statues also present a bright, clean appearance, having been scrubbed while the new roof was being placed on.

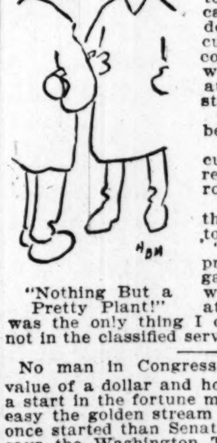
Senator Burrows of Kalamazoo and Senator McMillan of Detroit are not only colleagues, but also close friends. They are given to joking each other at times. A day or two ago Senator Burrows had occasion to go to the department of agriculture in behalf of a constituent. On his way back he met Senator McMillan, who stopped him and said:

"Where have you been, my son?"

"Over at the agricultural department,' replied Senator Burrows.

"Did you get anything?" asked Senator McMillan.

"Nothing but a pretty plant they gave me for my wife," replied Senator Burrows. "That was the only thing I could find that was not in the classified service."



"Nothing But a Pretty Plant!"

No man in Congress knows better the value of a dollar and how hard it is to get a start in the fortune making line and how easy the golden stream pours in after it is once started than Senator Kearns of Utah, says the Washington Times. He dug the nucleus of his great fortune from the earth with a pick, and although he received many hard knocks himself his friends say that there is not a bigger-hearted or more generous man to his fellow-men in the world to day than Senator Kearns. Some senators were discussing great fortunes in the cloakroom before the session adjourned and the fact that a man of great wealth had received $75,000,000 in cash as his share of the sale of stock in a great corporation.

"What would you do with $75,000,000 in cash, Kearns?" asked a fellow senator, who counts his fortune in the money that rests in his wallet.

"Well," replied Mr. Kearns, "that is a little too much money to spend in a few minutes' conversation."

Some one asked Senator Elkins if it was really true that he had sold the West Virginia Central Railroad.

"No," said the senator, "but I will tell you how it will be. Some of these days a man will come along with a bag full of money and I will have the stock and then we will make a trade."

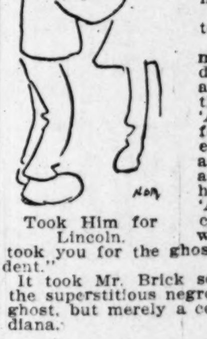
The "trade" to which Mr. Elkins referred in this off-hand manner is only a little matter of about $20,000,000.

Senator Cullom made a call on President Roosevelt the other day and when he came out of the chief executive's room he was asked: "Did you suggest to the President any candidate for cabinet positions?" "I never offer advice to the President," replied Mr. Cullom, "regarding cabinet positions. I did that once, and I will never do it again. When Grant was in the White House I thought I saw a chance to get an Illinois man in the cabinet, so I suggested his name to Grant and pointed out some his good qualities. Grant arose from his table and, stepping up to me, placed his hands on my shoulders and looked me squarely in the face. Then he said seriously: 'Cullom, a President wants to be just as free from interference or advice when he selects a member of his cabinet as he does when he picks out his wife.' I would like to see an Illinois man in President Roosevelt's cabinet, but if he wants any information or advice from me he must ask for it, and he has failed to do so up to date."

When, a few days ago, Representative Brick of Indiana had occasion to call upon Brick of Indiana had occasion to call upon Senator Fairbanks at the latter's residence, he handed his card to the servant. When he reached the senator's library he found the latter laughing heartily.

"What's the matter," said Brick.

"You nearly scared my colored man to death," said the senator. "He glanced at the card, saw the 'Abraham Lincoln' before 'Brick,' and rushed upstairs to me in a state of mind. 'Senator,' he said, 'with his eyes bulging out, 'Abraham Lincoln has come to life again and wants to see you.' He took you for the ghost of the dead President."



Took Him for Lincoln.

It took Mr. Brick some time to assure the superstitious negro that he was not a ghost, but merely a congressman from Indiana.

"Good Morrow."

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

I wonder if it wouldn't be a good plan to popularize "good morrow" as a general salutation to advertise St. Louis?

Have you ever had a friend to salute you along in the afternoon, and in return you answered good morning? Later you recollect your bad break, and you begin to feel that you are growing absent minded. Now, if one should say "good morrow," the salutation would last all day, and besides having a pleasant and poetic sound, it would become very popular. Then, again, if one was away from home and continued to use the term people would at once recognize that he or she was from St. Louis, where the big Fair is to take place. Suppose we try it. A HANNERTY IDEA.

St. Louis.

An Unsightly Alley.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

The arrests that have just been made in connection with the bribery cases and the Suburban Railroad, brings back to my mind how very active the Suburban people were in regard to getting ready to fix up the alley between the old sub-postoffice on Morgan and Sarah streets.

I do not suppose there is a more unsightly place in the residence portion of St. Louis. At the time they were asking for these new franchises they had surveyors out there and were very active preparing to build retaining walls there at once which I believe they are under contract to the city to do any time the city requested.

While we are cleaning up and trying to beautify the city, can we afford to let that unsightly place go as it is?

Shylock With Modern Haircut.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

Before Irving's recent visit to our city I assured a friend we would have an opportunity of seeing correct costuming and stage setting. The first night was a disappointment, especially concerning the costumes. Perhaps you can inform me of his license for having his male characters wear twentieth century hair-cuts. Even Shylock had not his "orange tawny bonnet."

Care of Goldfish.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

Will some of the readers of the Post-Dispatch kindly inform me of the care of gold fish and if plants can be grown in the water with them. Our happy home is made still more so by the Post-Dispatch, and as we have a jolly old bachelor in the house the "fire building question" provoked much laughter. The Post-Dispatch gets nearer and dearer to homefolk every day.

A SINCERE FRIEND OF THE P.-D.

As It Is in Wyoming.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

Aha, I have thee! "Another Anti Suffragist." Thou are one of the baser sex; thy argument exposes thee; it is so thin it would not support thee were it a sheet of ice. "Every day you scan their faces drawn and seamed with pain." How could it be otherwise as long as their noses are kept to the grindstone by unjust laws which deprive them of their means to voice their sentiment in the selection of lawmakers? Go to Wyoming and see the women there. Their faces are not drawn and seamed with pain. They have an opportunity of widening their field of action, and becoming happier and more useful to themselves and to their fellowmen. They will prove your sound argument false by their thorough patriotism and interest in everything that pertains to the good of the community. It is not claimed that the enfranchisement of woman should make her mannish, or make her any less the lady; it is not intended that she should lay aside the garments which custom expects her to wear, or go strutting about smoking cigars or pipes or frequenting bar rooms or in any other way to emulate the absurdities of the male sex. She certainly would not consider such a course an evidence of sense or intelligence.

St. Louis. PRO BONO PUBLICO.

Only a Rumor.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

I call your attention to enclosed slip cut from morning paper stating that negotiations are on foot to sell the Philippines to Germany.

Can it be possible that anything like this is being contemplated?

Let us get back our $20,000,000 paid the Spanish government for the Philippines by negotiations with the citizens of those islands. By guaranteeing them independence we can easily get back our money and if desired an honest indemnity besides.

Who Has These Poems?

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch

Would you please publish one of the following poems: "The fast mail lay on the sidetrack, for the night express was late," or, "Life is like a crooked railroad and the engineer is brave." N. B. T.

Another Protest Against Cruelty.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

Here is another appeal from one who has until recently resided in the East and who is beginning to think that the reputed kindheartedness of the people of St. Louis is all a myth, as there is no city in the Union where so much cruelty to horses and hardheartedness is in evidence.

Will not "J. M. B.'s" protest and advice in Wednesday night's paper be heeded by the police department and others who have authority? F. N. P.

Of Interest to Spiritualists.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

Mary Corwin of Greenpoint, N. Y., has left the bulk of her estate to be used in relieving destitute Spiritualists and to defray the expenses of Spiritualist meetings. The National Spiritualists' Association has just recommended that all aid to Spiritualism shall be given before the death of the giver, a Kansas judge having decided that any one leaving money for the benefit of that religion is of unsound mind. The kind of judges they have in some parts of Kansas are highly useful to heirs. It is common among heirs who have been left out to consider their deceased relative unsound mentally, whatever his or her religion was. All judges, however, are not ignorant or bigoted, and a will may be honestly carried out sometimes. L. H. S. F.

St. Louis.

A Mother's View.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

Should a woman vote? Always the threadbare answer, "A woman's place is home." As an argument absolutely devoid of sense. It frequently happens that I do not leave home for weeks at a time; but what has that to do with equal suffrage? My family is well feed, well clothed, basement and attic clean. Is it an argument for or against equal suffrage? Neither! It signifies that I have money to hire service or uncommon physical strength.

"At home," in the midst of "pure surroundings," husband and children by my side, I read in the daily press that a judge sentences the poor to be hanged, while the rich go unwhipt of justice; that juries are packed and corrupted; that politicians rob the taxpayer of thousands and thousands; that they present each other with $5000 tea sets, while the poorhouse is sometimes lighted by private subscription and the hospital patients served with scanty fare; that winerooms and dens of infamy flourish on all sides, encouraged and protected. I say to myself, "Oh! that I might use my time to some good purpose; that I might save the body and soul of some poor little factory girl or boy!" When I venture to do so I am told that is vulgar; go home and polish your door handle.

Sisters, let us not deceive ourselves with the thought that we are "queens." When we come face to face with man-made laws and try to remedy any evils we find that "moral suasion" is not worth 25 cents; we have no vote.

Man left to himself degenerates; woman becomes slatternly; it takes both to make the home; it takes both to make the government. MOTHER.

NEWS OF THE ST. LOUIS CHURCHES

Baptist.

Rev. C. H. Murray, who has just concluded a two years' pastorate of Immanuel Baptist Church, Cabanne, will enter the American School of Osteopathy at Kirksville, Mo., on Feb. 1, and hopes after the course there to become a self-supporting mission-worker. He will also engage in country pastoral and supply work.

The deacons of the Third Baptist Church held a meeting this week at the Mercantile Club for the purpose of discussing plans looking to the enlargement of the present church building and Sunday-school rooms.

Rev. S. E. Ewing, pastor of the Taylor Avenue Baptist Church, is assisting in a protracted meeting at Troy, Mo., this week.

Rev. Mr. Schulz, pastor of the First Baptist Church, has succeeded in raising $2000 towards the church debt and hopes soon to raise the remaining $3000 of indebtedness.

Revival meetings began this week at the Water Tower Baptist Church. The pastor, the Rev. J. F. Herget, is being assisted by Evangelist T. C. Long.

Mrs. Rhoda C. Ray gave a lecture and entertainment at the Taylor Avenue Church on the theme, "From the Cradle to the Grave; or Life of Miss Willard."

SECOND.—Rev. W. W. Boyd, pastor. At 11 a. m., "Last Words From the Savior;" 8 p. m., first lecture in series on "Paul," musically illustrated from Mendelssohn's "St. Paul."

THIRD.—Rev. W. J. Williamson, pastor. At 11 a. m., "Some Characteristics of a Great Church;" 7:45 p. m., baptism and sermon, "Free, but not to be purchased."

DELMAR AVENUE.—John T. M. Johnson, pastor. At 11 a. m., subject, "A Day With the Holy Spirit;" 8 p. m., subject, "The Cost of Rejecting."

Catholic.

It is proposed to rebuild on a larger scale than before the Cathedral of SS. Peter and Paul in Alton, which was recently so badly damaged by fire. The Franklin Dramatic Club, one of the organizations of this church, is making arrangements for a grand euchre which will take place at the Bohemian Gymnasium on Tuesday evening, Feb. 4.

The Catholic Club of Alton has recently elected the following officers for the coming year: Harry Jenkins, president; John Singleton, vice-president; Austin McInerney, secretary, and William Cremens, treasurer. The board of directors is composed of Arthur Hartman, Dennis Noonan and Martin Hastings.

Arrangements have been completed for the grand euchre to be given by the ladies of St. Vincent's parish at Liederkranz Hall, Thirteenth and Chouteau avenue, on Wednesday evening, Feb. 5.

The chapel of the Young Men's Sodality of St. Francis Xavier's Church is being frescoed.

A one hundred prize euchre is to be given by the parishioners of St. Bridget's Church on Wednesday afternoon and night, Feb. 5. The prizes are to be very handsome and costly.

In the annual report of St. Mary's Infirmary, just issued, it is shown that the sisters have taken care of 634 charity patients during the year.

Archbishop Kain has just issued his "Regulations for Lent." All the Catholic rectors of the city are expected to read and explain these regulations and dispensations to their respetcive congregations.

The Young Men's Institute is greatly in favor of establishing a strong Catholic Club in this city. Their clubhouse on Page boulevard not being large enough, they are looking forward to renting, buying or building a clubhouse. Several committees have been appointed to look into the matter and a report will soon be made.

The mission given at St. Francis Xavier's Church, Jerseyville, Ill., last week by the Rev. Walter Elliott, the eloquent New York Paulist Father, was very largely attended.

The parishioners of St. Agnes' Church will give their annual euchre on Tuesday evening, Feb. 4, at Lemp's Hall, Thirteenth and Utah streets. Great preparations have been made to make it a grand success and many handsome prizes will be awarded.

The forty hours' adoration was held on Jan. 27, 28 and 29, in the St. Francis Orphan Asylum, Normandy, Mo., on Jan. 30, 31 and Feb. 1, in the chapel of the Sisters of St. Joseph, Nazareth, Mo., on Jan. 31 and Feb. 1 and it will be held in St. Bridget's Church, St. Louis and on Feb. 2 in the Immaculate Conception Church, Jackson, Mo., Immaculate Conception Church, Macon, Mo., and in the Church of Visitation of B. M. V. at Vienne, Mo.

The Rev. Peter Gehrmann, C. SS. R., who has been engaged in work for some time in Denver, Colo., has recently been assigned to work at St. Alphonsus (Rock) Church, this city.

No Argument Needed.

Every Sufferer from Catarrh Knows that Salves, Lotions, Washes, Sprays and Douches Do Not Cure.

Powders, lotions, salves, sprays and inhalers cannot really cure Catarrh, because this disease is a blood disease, and local applications, if they accomplish anything at all, simply give transient relief.

The catarrhal poison is in the blood and the mucous membrane of the nose, throat and trachea tries to relieve the system by secreting large quantities of mucus, the discharge sometimes closing up the nostrils, dropping into the throat, causing deafness by closing the Eustachian tubes, and after a time causing catarrh of stomach or serious throat and lung troubles.

A remedy to really cure catarrh must be an internal remedy which will cleanse the blood from catarrhal poison and remove the fever and congestion from the mucous membrane.

The best and most modern remedies for this purpose are antiseptics scientifically known as Eucalyptol, Guaiacol, Sanguinaria and Hydrastin, and while each of these have been successfully used separately, yet it has been difficult to get them all combined in one palatable, convenient and efficient form.

The manufacturers of the new catarrh cure, Stuart's Catarrh Tablets, have succeeded admirably in accomplishing this result. They are large, pleasant tasting lozenges, to be dissolved in the mouth, thus reaching every part of the mucous membrane of the throat and finally the stomach.

Unlike many catarrh remedies, Stuart's Catarrh Tablets contain no cocaine, opiate or any injurious drug whatever and are equally beneficial for little children and adults

Mr. C. R. Rembrandt of Rochester, N. Y., says: "I know of few people who have suffered as much as I from Catarrh of the head, throat and stomach. I used sprays, inhalers and powders for months at a time with only slight relief, and had no hope of cure. I had not the means to make a change of climate, which seemed my only chance of cure.

"Last spring I read an account of some remarkable cures made by Stuart's Catarrh Tablets and promptly bought a fifty cent box from my druggist and obtained such positive benefit from that one package that I continued to use them daily until I now consider myself entirely free from the disgusting annoyance of catarrh; my head is clear, my digestion all I could ask and my hearing, which had begun to fail as a result of the catarrh, has greatly improved until I feel I can hear as well as ever. They are a household necessity in my family."

Stuart's Catarrh Tablets are sold by druggists at 50 cents for complete treatment and for convenience, safety and prompt results they are undoubtedly the long looked for catarrh cure.

The young men's and young ladies' sodalities of the Annunciation parish will give a grand progressive euchre at the school hall, Sixth and Chouteau avenue, on Monday evening, Feb. 10. Many handsome and valuable prizes will be awarded. There will also be dancing, and refreshments will be served.

Arrangements have been made to hold a mission in St. Joseph's Church, Granite City, during the early part of April. This is a new parish, it being organized only about a year ago. The ladies of the congregation are planning for a fair, to be given soon, for the benefit of the church.

Two recent changes have been made among the Franciscan Fathers, as follows: The Rev. Alphonsus Bergener, O. F. M., has been made pastor of St. Francis Borgias Church, at Washington, Mo., and the Rev. Pancrateus Schulte, O. F. M., has been appointed superior of the house.

The third of the series of euchres, which are being given by the Young Ladies' Sodality of St. Alphonsus' Church, will take place on Saturday afternoon, in Sodality hall, at 2 o'clock. This will be a linen affair.

A retreat, conducted by the Rev. Clement Moorman, O. F. M., for the single and married ladies of the Holy Family Church, has been in progress. The patronal feast of this church was celebrated last Sunday.

Rev. Father Brown, S. J., who is conducting a Sunday evening lecture course at St. Francis Xavier's Church, is one of the most interesting speakers in the city. His subject last Sunday was: "Jesus Christ, True God and True Man." He will close these lectures on Palm Sunday.

A euchre will be given by the Young Ladies' Sodality of the Holy Ghost parish, at the school hall, on Wednesday evening, Feb. 5.

Sunday, will be Candlemas Day, or the feast of the purification, and it will be celebrated in all the Catholic churches. Candles will be blessed before mass and distributed among the congregation to be used on sacred occasions during the year.

Christian.

Rev. Frank G. Tyrrell, pastor of the Mount Cabanne Christian Church, has been in Iowa this week delivering a series of lectures. He will return in time to fill his pulpit on Sunday. The associate pastor, Rev. Mr. Wharton, preached his first sermon in that church last Sunday.

The Calendar Club of Mount Cabanne Church has made arrangements with the St. Louis Lyceum Co. for a fashionable spring lecture course. The numbers are a cartoonist, a famous concert company and the Rev. Dr. Tyrrell.

The Ellendale Christian Church burned its mortgage and formally installed its pastor, Rev. L. B. Coggins, and the Board of Officers in an enthusiastic meeting last week. Mr. W. D. Pittman, Rev. E. T. McFarland and other city preachers participated.

Rev. John S. Brandt, pastor of the First Christian Church, and the Rev. R. B. Heiser, assistant pastor, have been on a lecturing tour in Iowa this week. Rev. Mr. Brandt will return in time to preach his anniversary sermon on Sunday morning. This will be the 17th anniversary of his entrance into the Christian ministry.

A "Chorus Choir Club" has been organized in the Second Christian Church, with the following officers: President, Miss Lilian Reynolds; vice-president, Mrs. D. B. Skinner; secretary, Miss Clara Mirles; treasurer, Thomas McGowan. Mrs. Kate Lamothe was elected chairman of the membership committee; Charles Lamothe, chairman of the entertainment committee, and Mrs. Laura Rozer, chairman of the social committee. Mr. W. Daviess Pittman will be the musical director. The choir will meet for regular practice every Friday evening, and the club will provide entertainments of a social nature to be given each month.

Rev. W. A. Moore, pastor of the Beulah Christian Church, began a protracted meeting at Davenport, Io., this week. The Rev. C. C. Davis, pastor of the Davenport church, is a former classmate of his.

The meetings at the Compton Heights Christian Church are attracting such a large attendance that it has been decided to continue them some time longer.

"The Aeolians" gave a musical and literary entertainment at the Fourth Christian Church, Blair and Penrose streets, on Friday evening. This was the second entertainment in the lecture and entertainment course. The pastor, Rev. E. T. McFarland, will preach in the morning on "The Glory of Old Age," and in the evening there will be a special song service and sermon.

FIRST.—John L. Brandt, pastor. Usual morning and evening services.

TUXEDO.—J. A. Bennett, minister. Usual morning and evening services.

EAST SIDE.—W. A. Meloam, pastor. George L. Snively will preach in morning and W. A. Meloam in evening.

OLD ORCHARD.—Sunday school at 3 p. m. O. A. Bartholomew will preach at 4 p. m.

Congregational.

Six thousand dollars has been raised during the past year towards the debt of the Webster Groves Congregational Church. The congregation is large and very progressive. They donated generously last month to the Danish Lutheran Sunday-school.

The topic of the prayer meeting for Wednesday evening at the Webster Groves Congregational Church will be "The Use and Abuse of Church Music."

Rev. Charles L. Kloss, pastor of the Webster Groves Congregational Church, hopes to give every Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock during Lent readings from Browning, with spiritual interpretations.

Sunday, Feb. 16, will mark the fourth anniversary of the pastorate of the Rev. Mr. Kloss. The day is generally celebrated by the pastor in reviewing the lessons and experiences of the past years of his ministry.

The 10th choral service in the composers' series will be given Sunday evening at the First Congregational Church by chorus, choir and quartet under the leadership of E. R. Kroeger. Handel, the great master of oratorio, has been chosen for presentation. Dr. Patton will speak upon "The Oratorio as an Interpreter of Bible History." The following musical numbers will be rendered:

Chorus—And the Glory of the Lord......Messiah

OLIVE BRANCH.—Rev. William Johnson will preach at 11 a. m. and 8 p. m.

FIRST.—Rev. Cornelius H. Patton, pastor.

Episcopal.

Emmanuel Episcopal Church at Old Orchard has been thoroughly renovated and the interior is now very beautiful. The gold oak pews have been reseated, the gift of a friend of the parish, in memory of a dear one departed this life. The aisles, nave, sanctuary and chancel have been newly carpeted also, giving a bright and beautiful appearance to the whole interior. The music, under the direction of Mr. William M. Jenkins, the accomplished organist, is an important feature in the services. Rev. J. M. Northrop is rector of this church.

The last mission class will be held at Schuyler Memorial House on Tuesday afternoon, Feb. 4, at 2:30 o'clock. The topic will be "Missions to Our Neighbors," conducted by Mrs. Ed F. Cushing. These diocesan missions classes are open to all who are interested in the study of missions, and the women of the different parishes are invited to attend them.

The diocesan officers of the Woman's Auxiliary will meet for conference in the reading room of the Schuyler Memorial House on the second Tuesday of each month up to June, inclusive, at 10:30 a. m.; 12 m., intercessions for missions.

A third new mission, St. John's, has been organized at Washington, Mo. Washington is in the southern convocation and has about 7000 inhabitants and is considered a good field for church work.

Many improvements have been made in St. Paul's Episcopal Church, Carondelet, since the Rev. F. H. Richer became rector early in the fall, and the guilds are now all industriously at work.

The congregation of the Episcopal Church at East St. Louis is now holding services in Music Hall, on Collinsville avenue, East St. Louis, until the new church is completed. The Rev. John C. White is the rector. A newly organized choir has been formed, which renders the service remarkably well, and on last Sunday the offertory solo, "Just for Today," was sung by Mr. Joseph Crawford, who has a remarkably clear and sweet tenor voice. The service next Sunday at 10:45 a. m. will consist of the litany and the holy eucharist. The rector will preach on the subject, "The Claim of God Upon Our Lives." Sunday school is held at 9:30 a. m. Mr. Crawford will offer some good music.

At St. Mark's Church Sunday evening there will be a service of song, assisted by Prof. Charles Seymour, cornetist, director of the First Regiment Band; Charles Seymour, Jr., violinist, and Miss Irene Critchfield, soprano. The following program will be rendered:

Soprano Solo—I Heard the Voice of Jesus Say......Harriss
Miss Irene Critchfield.
Cornet Solo—Lost Chord......Sullivan
Prof. Charles Seymour.
Anthem—The King of Love My Shepherd Is......Shelley
Bass Solo—Fear Yet Israel......Buck
Mr. Albert Lem Pellaton.
Violin Solo—
(a) Traumeri......Schumann
(b) Maria......Tosti
Charles Seymour, Jr.
Anthem—I Lift My Eyes......Davis
Thomas Ingram Dix, Organist.

Special music will be rendered at St. George's Episcopal Church on Sunday evening. The program is as follows:

Abendlied......Schumann
Organ number by Prof. Paul Mori.
Three Violin Solos—
Serenade......Schubert
Twilight......Massenet
Madrigal......Simonetti
Sig. Guido Parisi.

A three-part chorus for boys and altos from "Elijah," by Mendelssohn, and an anthem by Tours for sopranos and chorus, "O, Saving Richness," Master Frank de Vol and choir.

The Rev. Dr. Holland will give one of his famous short talks.

St. Mary's Guild of the Mount Calvary Episcopal Church will give an entertainment and hop at Anchor Hall, Park and Jefferson avenues, Thursday evening, Feb. 11.

ST. GEORGE'S.—Rev. Dr. Holland, rector. Morning, sermon on "Good and Bad Luck;" evening, musical service and short address.

ST. PETER'S.—Rev. William Short, rector. At 9:30 a. m., litany and holy communion; 11 o'clock, sermon by the rector; evening service, 8 o'clock, service of song; music under Mr. Charles Galloway.

ST. ANDREW'S.—Rev. J. A. Dooris, rector. At 11 a. m., litany and holy communion; 7:45, evening prayer and sermon.

CHURCH OF THE ASCENSION.—Rev. James R. Winchester, rector. Morning, 7:30 o'clock, celebration of the holy communion; 11 o'clock sermon and morning prayer with holy communion; evening prayer and sermon at 8 o'clock.

ST. STEPHEN'S HOUSE.—Rev. Henry Watson Mizner, rector. Celebration of holy communion at 7 o'clock and 9 o'clock; 8 o'clock evening prayer and sermon.

ST. MARK'S.—Rev. J. K. Brennan, rector. Morning, 11 o'clock, "Lent;" evening, 8 o'clock, "Wages of Sin." Special musical program.

TRINITY.—Rev. H. C. St. Clair, rector. Holy communion, 7:30 a. m.; holy communion and sermon, 11 a. m.; evening prayer and sermon, 8 p. m.

Lutheran.

MOUNT CALVARY (Evangelical Lutheran).—Rev. E. T. Coyner, pastor. At 10 a. m., "Glorying—False and True;" 3 p. m., dedication anniversary; German sermon by Rev. R. Kretchmar; 8 p. m., dedication anniversary and holy communion; English sermon by Rev. H. Hallerberg.

ST. MARK'S.—Dr. Rhodes. Morning at 11, "Serious Thoughts of God;" evening at 8 o'clock.

Methodist.

Rev. Dr. R. D. Smart, pastor of the Cook Avenue M. E. Church, South, is preaching a series of sermons on the "Seven I Ams of Our Lord." The last subject was "I Am the Bread," and the next will be "I Am the Light." Many improvements are being made in the Cook avenue church. A new and beautiful hardwood floor is being laid in the [illegible] and [illegible] new carpets are to cover the aisles and chancel. Many accessions have also been made in the church the last few weeks.

The special services being held at the Goode Avenue M. E. Church by Rev. S. W. McClure are being largely attended and much interest is manifested.

During Rev. Dr. J. W. Lee's absence the pulpit of St. John's M. E. Church is being filled by the different ministers of that denomination. Sunday morning Rev. Dr. W. F. McMurry, the presiding elder, will preach and in the evening Rev. A. F. Smith of the Kirkwood Church will preach.

A missionary tea was given at the home of Mrs. J. W. Evans, president of the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society of the Kirkwood Southern Methodist Church, which was an excellent affair.

The Ladies' Aid Society, under the management of Mrs. E. S. Buckner, is preparing a church directory of the Kirkwood Southern Methodist Church, which will appear in a short while.

The Sunday-school of the Kirkwood Southern Methodist Church is showing great enthusiasm over the Teachers' Reading Circle. Twice as many members of the circle are pledged as there are teachers in the school. The school is overflowing its present accommodations.

The regular monthly song service of the Cook Avenue M. E. Church, South, will be given Sunday evening. C. F. Hatfield, organist and director, has arranged a special program, as follows: Anthems, "God Be Merciful," Buck; "How Lovely Are Thy Habitations," Salaman; "Lead, Kindly Light," Buck; "Prepare Ye the Way of the Lord," Garrett; "Shadows of the Evening Hour," Shelley; "I Came Not to Call the Righteous," Vincent; "He Shall Come Down Like Rain," Buck. Soprano solo, "A World of Praise," Aylward.

The quartet will consist of Miss Mildred D. Kellogg, soprano; Miss Mary Louise Harnett, alto; Mr. William A. Graeper, tenor; Mr. Edward C. Lackland, Jr., bass.

Presbyterian.

Rev. J. L. Mause of Staunton, Va., who received a unanimous call to the pastorate of the Central Presbyterian Church, has accepted the call and will enter upon his work shortly.

Rev. S. Howard Smith, pastor of the North Cabanne Presbyterian Church, who has been assisted in a series of revival services by the Rev. T. T. Hays of Moselle, Mo., reports 17 additions as a result.

The Presbyterian Social Union of St. Louis met at the Planters' Hotel this week for the purpose of reorganization. The addresses were made by Rev. Dr. Henry Collin Minton, moderator of the general assembly, United States of America, by President MacCracken of Westminster College, and others. After the election of officers a banquet was served. This union will also include ministers and prominent laymen from the different Presbyterian bodies of the city, and the object is to make the organization helpful to the Presbyterians in the city. They will make great preparation to entertain distinguished Presbyterians at the time of the World's Fair.

Rev. Dr. Sneed has announced that he has accepted a call to the East Liberty Church at Pittsburg.

Special meetings are being held in Curby Memorial Church and conducted by Rev. Dr. Walker, the pastor.

Rev. John D. Brandt, well known in the Presbyterian world, is about to leave St. Louis, and will reside for a time in Williamsburg, Va. He needs the desired rest.

Union evangelistic meetings between the Washington and Compton Avenue Presbyterian Church, the Grand Avenue Presbyterian Church and the Cumberland Presbyterian Church will begin in the last named church, corner of Lucas and Channing avenues, on Sunday, Feb. 9, at 8 p. m. Rev. Dr. R. G. Pearson, an evangelist of Asheville, N. C., will do the preaching and Mr. H. O. Seagle of Chattanooga, Tenn., will lead the singing. A chorus choir will be formed from the three churches, which will assist in the song services. Union prayer meetings between these churches will be held in the chapel of the Lucas avenue church Thursday and Friday evenings, Feb. 6 and 7, at 8 o'clock.

"Oh! The Comfort of It"

Religious News.

Mr. W. H. McClain lectured Friday night at the Pilgrim Congregational Church. He took for his subject, "The Conditions and the Environments of the Poor in the Congested Districts of Our City." He has made a perfect study of this work for some time.

Friday afternoon at the Provident Association a monthly conference of charities was held and a most delightful program was given. Mrs. Sophia Demuth of Alton, Ill., took for her subject, "Child Saving." This woman has done a good work in Alton by forcing lazy men to support their children. Dr. E. C. Runge of the city Insane Asylum spoke on "The Needs of Our City Institutions." Mrs. Philip N. Moore gave a delightful address on "The Work of the Visiting Nurse." Mr. W. H. McClain is chairman and Rev. H. W. Mizner is secretary of these monthly conferences.

The St. Louis Provident Association will open on Feb. 4 for a term of eight weeks a school for practical training of charity workers.

Three days of each week will be devoted to the practical work of the association. The tuition for the eight weeks will be freely given and an invitation is extended to all.

Three Bible classes have been meeting in Y. M. C. A. rooms Central Branch, every Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock, this winter, and now a fourth Bible class has been formed for the new converts. It is to be called the "Twentieth Century Club" and is under the leadership of the assistant secretary of the association, Mr. Ira E. Lute.

The meetings which the Rev. Dr. W. J. Williamson has been holding for men at 4 o'clock on Sunday afternoons in Association Hall, have proved so successful that they will be continued another month. The subject of his next Sunday afternoon sermon will be "The Yoke That Is Easy."

A young men's meeting is being held every Saturday evening from 8 to 9 o'clock at the Central Branch Y. M. C. A. These are meetings by young men for young men. All are invited.

The largest Bible class in the state is taught by Mr. Walter Williams at Columbia, Mo., the seat of the State University, in the Presbyterian Church. The attendance has reached 400.

Sunday, Feb. 9, has been appointed as "Decision Day" by the Missouri Sunday-School Association. A general program for order of services has been arranged, which will be generally observed by all the officers and teachers of this association throughout the state and city.

Rev. W. M. Pinson of Newbury, S. C., arrived in the city this week and will enter upon his work at once as state field secretary for thee Anti-Saloon League of Missouri. The committee recently appointed is: Father J. T. Coffey, chairman; L. C. Stumpf, secretary; the Rev. Dr. W. H. Palmore, the Rev. Dr. McKittrick, the Rev. Dr. Car[illegible] James L. Blair and G. Geitz. A new paper, "The Issue," will soon be issued by the league.

Arrangements are being made by Col. Alexander Hougland for the holding of a mass meeting shortly in the interest of the curfew movement. It is expected that Col. Hougland will speak in one or more of the churches on Sunday.

Prof. Nathaniel Schmidt of Cornell University will lecture at Memorial Hall, under the auspices of the Ethical Society, on Sunday morning at 11 a. m. on "The Ethics of Jesus." The Greek Ethics Club held its seventh meeting on Wednesday evening of this week. Subject, "The Ministry of Jesus." Prof. Holmes Smith lectured before the art section on Friday, Jan. 31. On Thursday Prof. Percy H. Boynton took up "Peter Bell III" and "Oedipus."

CURE SICK HEADACHE.

Sunday evening, Feb. 2, the Unity Club of the Church of the Unity, north side of Lafayette Park, will take up the reading of "Iphigenia." On Feb. 16 the reading of "Iphigenia" will be concluded and on March 2 there will be a paper and discussion on the same subject.

The Teachers' Primary Union will hereafter hold its meetings in the Burlington building every Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock instead of in the Holland building, as formerly.

Evangelists Hart and Magann, who conducted meetings in this city for some weeks, have just returned from conducting a series of meetings in Streator, Ill., where there were 300 converts. They leave this week to conduct revival meetings at Bushnell, Ill.

The Young People's Circle of the St. Mark's English Lutheran Church Sunday School gave a social Friday. This society is a very active one and they do a great deal for the church work.

The Gospel services held at 2819 Stoddard street have been conducted by Mrs. J. T. Dodson.

Rev. Dr. J. W. Lee, who has spent a few weeks at Pasadena, Cal., has improved in health and will soon return to the St. John's M. E. Church.

The St. Louis Evangelical Alliance held its January meeting at Odd Fellows' Hall this week, when the Rev. Dr. F. W. Sneed, pastor of the Washington and Compton Avenue Presbyterian Church, and pastor-elect of the East Liberty Presbyterian Church at Pittsburg Pa., read a paper on "The Church and the College." The Rev. Dr. M. Burnham, chairman of a special committee appointed for the purpose of bringing the Rev. G. Campbell Morgan of the Moody Bible School here to conduct a series of revival services, announced that Dr. Morgan had decided to visit St. Louis and will spend two weeks here in March. The committee was instructed to make all arrangements. Rev. H. G. Henderson, pastor of the First M. E. Church, and Mr. D. R. Wolfe became members of the alliance. Rev. C. R. Watson, pastor of the First United Presbyterian Church, will read the paper at the next meeting.

Rev. Dr. A. P. George, state superintendent of the Missouri Sunday School Association, will be present to represent the state association and present its work at the following places: Feb. 1, at New Cambria, Macon County; Feb. 3, Macon; Feb. 5-6, Unionville, Putnam County; Feb. 7-8, Milan, Sullivan County; Feb. 10-11, Mercer County.

Rev. P. W. Fauntleroy, rector of Mount Calvary Protestant Episcopal Church, will speak next Sunday afternoon at 4:30 at the South Side Y. M. C. A., 1800 South Eighteenth street. Subject, "The Gospel." Special music by Miss Edith Herring.

The subject of Dr. Williamson's address at Central Y. M. C. A. Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock will be "The Yoke That Is Easy." Singing conducted by Prof. Knox, leader of the High School Glee Club.

Bible classes conducted by Judge Selden P. Spencer, Judge A. A. Paxson, Mr. Wells H. Hurlbutt and Mr. Ira E. Lute will be as usual at 3 o'clock.

Sunday evening the St. Peter's Episcopal Church choir will give a service of song selections from Mendelssohn, Bradley, Sullivan and Banks will be sung. Miss Julia Brink and Miss Rosaline will be heard in solos.

MME. LEHMANN'S RECITAL

A Splendid Interpretation of Wagnerian Music by the German Prima Donna.

It was distinctly a musically educated audience which attended the song recital given by Mme. Lilli Lehmann at the Odeon last evening. Practically everyone who lays claim to being a musician was there, and they enjoyed a rare treat in the interpretation of Wagner, given by the singer and by Mr. Rheinhold Herman, the pianist.

Mme. Lehmann's program included "Donna Anna" aria from Mozart's Don Giovanni, Berlioz's "L'Absence," Franz's "Die Haide Ist Braun," Im Kahm" and "Zickeltanz," Grey Schumann's "Waldesgespraech" and "Nussbaum," Schubert's "Erlkoenig" and a Wagner excerpt.

In appearing before her audience, Mme. Lehmann stood with an easy grace, slightly leaning against the piano, and sang in a marvelously clear voice that has retained most of its youthful freshness and shows an abundance of feeling and dramatic ability. After the first part of the program Mr. Herman gave a comprehensive talk on the four musical dramas included in the Wagner cycle, and, in a cleverly artistic way, illustrated, on the piano, the legends and fire music, playing parts from "Die Walkure," "Siegfried and Die Gotterdammerrung," Mme. Lehmann bringing in the closing section with Brunhilde's farewell in the "immolation" scene from "Die Gotterdammerung," which brought from her hearers continued and heartfelt applause.

This is, in all probability, Mme. Lehmann's farewell tour in America, as she is in her fifty-fifth year, and will not be heard in this country in heavy roles again.

Two concerts by Ellery's Royal Italian Band is the schedule at the Odeon today, and if the weather is at all favorable big houses should prevail, for the music is of the highest order. No better band music was ever heard in St. Louis. Here is the program for the evening:

March—American Navy......Creatore
Overture—Zampa......Herold
Trumpet solo—Nonea Ver......Mattei
Sig. Palma.
Polka......Marchetti
Aida, act 1, scene 1......Verdi
Prelude, tenor air, trio, chorus.
March—Diavoli Rossi......Rivela
Selection—The Serenade......Herbert
Grand Fantasie......Boito
Incidental solos.

The famous Maple Lane scene in "York State Folks" is said to be one of the prettiest exteriors ever shown on the stage. It reveals a village lane in autumn, with falling maple leaves, broken-down stone wall and rustic bridge, with the lights of the village showing dimly through the trees, the autumn twilight fading slowly before the brilliancy of the harvest moon. The scene, with the others of the production, was painted by Voegtlin from photographs furnished by the author of real scenes in that section of New York state where the story of the play is located. It will be seen at the Grand all next week, beginning with the Sunday matinee.

MRS. FREMONT NEEDS MONEY

Helpless, Without a Nurse, She Suffers Waiting for Government to Pay Its Debt.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Feb. 1.—Mrs. Jessie Benton Fremont, daughter of Thomas Hart Benton, Missouri's greatest statesman, and widow of Gen. John C. Fremont, "The Pathfinder," is ill and needy in her home near Los Angeles, Cal., notwithstanding the fact that the government of this great country owes her something like $[illegible]000. For nearly 40 years the Fremont claim for this money has been before the government.

Gen. Fremont died before his claim received anything like just recognition and the widow may die before it is settled. The claim grows out of the fact that in 1863 the government seized and fortified land at Point San Jose, on the bar of San Francisco, belonging to Gen. Fremont. It is yet used for military purposes.

To a Kansas City friend of Gen. Fremont the widow has just written:

"You saw my helpless state last year. I am as helpless now as then and need a skilled nurse. I have no money to attend to his grave. The general would be the last person to allow me to neglect the living for the dead. But if I get repayment for my property then I intend placing there a simple slab, with 'The Pathfinder,' born Jan. 21, 1813, died June 13, 1890,' and fence in the inclosure, which was deeded to me as a burial lot."

PRINCE WILL GET A BOX.

Grau Says Henry Will Be Properly Placed.

NEW YORK, Feb. 1.—Maurice Grau says Prince Henry will occupy Mr. Morgan's box at the gala performance at the Metropolitan opera house.

Mr. Hitchcock wants it understood that he did not call the prince a "[illegible]alty," nor did he speak of the President as "Teddy." Mr. Hitchcock said that such language as attributed to him was, of course, preposterous.

"What I objected to," said Mr. Hitchcock, "is that it should have been announced that the boxes would be given up before any of the stockholders had been consulted, just as though the thing was wholly in the hands of Mr. Grau. He doesn't own the boxes; the stockholders own them."

FIVE HURT IN A WRECK.

Chicago & Alton Train Ditched at Pontiac, Ill.

PONTIAC, Ill., Feb. 1.—The Chicago & Alton limited, "Old Glory," which left Chicago at 11:25 a. m. yesterday, was thrown into a ditch at the interlocking switch plant just north of here by a misplaced switch. The injured are:

S. Nash, St. Louis; head injured.
E. Bruce, Joliet; back injured.
Mail Clerk W. Cass; legs injured.
Mail Clerk Mitchell; head cut, back and lower limbs injured.
Mrs. Bruce, colored; injured internally.

The train was going rapidly when it struck the derailing switch and then ran a short distance on the ties, finally all but the engine and rear coach leaving the roadbed and rolling into the ditch.

FUNSTON CONTRACTED COLD.

Kansas General Forced to Cancel an Engagement.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Feb. 1.—General Frederick Funston has contracted a bad cold, and was unable to go to Lawrence, Kan., where he was booked to deliver a speech. He will go to Iola, Kan., his parents' home, today, and will go to Washington and New York, from there within a few days.

THE BUSINESS MAN OF TO-MORROW

The wage earner of to-day is the business man of to-morrow.

The foreman of to-day will be the manufacturer—the clerk will be the proprietor—the salesman will be the chief.

We have an eye to the future. We want the accounts of the future generation as well as of the present. We want every young man and woman in St. Louis to appreciate that we recognize in them the vast possibilities of the coming generation.

We want their savings accounts. We realize that their few spare dollars will grow and accumulate and that pleasant relations established with the business powers that are to be will bring us future patronage.

We invite you to call and consider our savings proposition. We pay a liberal rate of interest. We have none of those lofty ideas toward small depositors.

This institution is your bank, whether you have a small amount to deposit or a large one.

IRRITABLE WOMEN

Should be Pitied — Not Blamed — Men Don't Understand How They Suffer When They Cry, "Oh, Don't Speak to Me."

All manner of extravagant expressions are possible when a woman's nerves are overwrought.

The spasm at the top of the wind pipe or bronchial tubes, "ball rising in the throat," violent beating of the heart, laughing and crying by turns, muscular spasms (throwing the arms about), frightened by the most insignificant occurrences—are all symptoms of a hysterical condition and serious derangement of the female organs.

Any female complaint may produce hysterics, which must be regarded as a symptom only. The cause, however, yields quickly to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which acts at once upon the organ afflicted and the nerve centres, dispelling effectually all those distressing symptoms.

Mrs. Lewis Says: "I Feel Like a New Person, Physically and Mentally."

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I wish to speak a good word for Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. For years I had ovarian trouble and suffered everything from nervousness, severe headache, and pain in back and abdomen. I had consulted different physicians, but decided to try your medicine, and I soon found it was giving me much relief. I continued its use and now am feeling like a new person, physically and mentally, and am glad to add one more testimonial to the value of your remedy."—MRS. M. H. LEWIS, 2108 Valentine Ave., Tremont, New York, N.Y.

Writing to Mrs. Pinkham is the quickest and surest way to get the right advice about all female troubles. Her address is Lynn, Mass. She advises women free. Following is an instance:

Mrs. Haven's First Letter to Mrs. Pinkham.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I would like your advice in regard to my troubles. I suffer every month at time of menstruation, and flow so much, and for so long that I become very weak, also get very dizzy. I am troubled with a discharge before and after menses, have pains in ovaries so bad sometimes that I can hardly get around, have sore feeling in lower part of bowels, pain in back, bearing-down feeling, a desire to pass urine frequently, with pains in passing it; have leucorrhœa, headache, fainting spells, and sometimes have hysteria. My blood is not in good condition. Hoping to hear from you, I am, MRS. EMMA HAVEN, 2508 South Ave., Council Bluffs, Iowa." (June 3, 1899.)

Mrs. Haven's Second Letter.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I wish to express my gratitude for what you have done for me. I suffered for four years with womb troubles. Every month I flowed very badly. I got so bad that I could hardly do my work. Was obliged to sit or lie down most of the time. I doctored for a long time, but obtained no relief. I began using your remedies—Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, Blood Purifier, Sanative Wash and Liver Pills—and now feel like a new woman."—MRS. EMMA HAVEN, 2508 South Ave., Council Bluffs, Iowa. (Feb. 1, 1900.)

$5000 REWARD.—We have deposited with the National City Bank of Lynn, $5000, which will be paid to any person who can find that the above testimonial letters are not genuine, or were published before obtaining the writer's special permission. Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass.

POST-DISPATCH DAILY RECORD OF FINANCIAL AND MARKETS

BANK STATEMENT WAS A SURPRISE

LARGE INCREASE IN DEPOSITS AND LOANS PUZZLED WALL STREET.

STOCK MARKET WAS STRONGER

Rock Island Sold on Announcement That There Would Be No Increase in Dividend.

NEW YORK, Feb. 1.—The bank statement was a surprise and traders sold stocks freely after its appearance. It showed an increase in loans of $19,589,100, an increase in deposits of $26,230,200 and an increase in reserves of $1,299,050. The large increase in deposits was due to the accumulation of funds to meet today's disbursements in the way of dividends and interest and the increase in loans was to a great extent due to the same cause. It is also possible that the payment for the new Atchison bonds had much to do with the changes in the statement and was brought about by the transfer of funds from the trust company to the banks for disbursements.

The market opened dull with the trend of prices upward. Rock Island was a feature, but later reacted on the announcement that the dividend rate would not be increased in June and that there would not be any issue of scrip dividend.

Grangers were very strong, closing near the top. London bought Southern Pacific. There were reports out that this road would issue bonds of a refunding mortgage character.

Belief that there would be delay in congressional action on the Cuban tariff question caused heavy selling of Sugar stock.

Amalgamated and Anaconda issues were higher on liberal buying by Boston houses.

Outside trade was light, but the market held firm throughout the day and closed at about the best prices of the day. Call money was nominally 2¼ per cent.

NEW YORK, Feb. 1.—Government bonds closed as follows: Ref. 2s, reg. and coupon, 108⅛; 3s reg., 108¼; cp. (ex-interest), 108¼; new 4s, reg. and cp., 111⅞; old 4s reg., 139; cp. (ex-interest), 139; 5s reg., 106; cp. (ex-interest), 106¼.

Stocks in Liverpool

LIVERPOOL, Feb. 1.—The following are the stocks of breadstuffs and provisions in Liverpool: Flour, 48,000 sacks; wheat, 1,670,000 centals; corn, 906,000 centals; bacon, 25,500 boxes; hams, 4700 boxes; shoulders, 4100 boxes; butter, 5600 cwt; cheese, 94,400 boxes; lard, 6000 tierces prime western steam and 570 tons other kinds.

The following are the stocks of wheat and corn in store and in quays (railway and canal depot not included): Wheat, 1,879,000 centals; corn, 902,000 centals.

Wall Street Weekly Review.

NEW YORK, Feb. 1.—There has been active speculation in some individual stocks this week notably in Amalgamated Copper; but beyond the slight sympathetic effect of this on the general list the general market has been neglected so far as the outside public is concerned. Favorable factors have been ignored, such as the growing ease of money, the prospects of peace in South Africa, the favorable report of the United States Steel Corporation, the revived demand for copper, the snow coverlet for winter wheat and gross earnings for railways larger than last year. The demands of the coal miners at the Indianapolis convention have invited attention to the spring labor settlements and the subjects had a depressing influence on stocks. There has been a good demand for cheap railroad bonds.

Weekly Bank Statement.

NEW YORK, Feb. 1.—The statement of the Associated Banks for the week ending today shows:

FAIRLY ACTIVE STOCK MARKET

LOCAL TRUST ISSUES THE CHIEF FAVORITES.

UNDERTONE OF MARKET WEAK

A Good Bond Demand and Fair Sales—Dealings in Railways Light—Bank Stocks Generally Quiet.

The closing day of the week on the Stock Exchange was practically devoid of features of particular interest. A fair demand was experienced, but the volume of business transacted was of small dimensions, and while no severe declines took place, a feeling of weakness prevailed and in a number of instances prices were shaded and the close was slightly below that of yesterday in the case of several stocks. The demand and dealings were largely in trust issues, in which most interest seemed to be taken. Germania and Missouri had the call and sold to the extent of over 34[illegible] shares, the former bringing $210.75 and $211, which was better than yesterday, and the latter at $169 to $169.75. Colonial was easier at $220.50, but all other trust stocks were unchanged, with the single exception of Union, which still continues to show strength and sold at $445 and $450.

United Railways were quiet with a weak undertone and sales were small, especially in the stock, though a fair bond business was done.

The market for bank stocks and securities of a miscellaneous character was slow and without important changes of any kind. Only one sale was made in the first named and that was in Third National. All bank stocks quoted were a little bit lower as compared with yesterday's closing.

LOCAL MONEY MARKET.

The New Month Making a Very Good Start.

The week closed and the new month opened in a very satisfactory way in local banking and trust circles. Business in all branches was active and the conditions were such as to add to the general activity, notwithstanding the dark and lowering weather.

Both checking and depositing were active and of quite large proportions. A good business was reported with outside banks and the demand from borrowers was on quite a liberal scale. Money was in ample supply, however, and, interest rates were steady and unchanged at 4½ to 5½ for time and 4 to 5 per cent for call money.

The first day's clearings for the new month, considering that it was the last day of the business week, were very encouraging, they amounting to $6,742,833, as compared with $8,115,178 yesterday, while the balances were $906,728 and $1,226,257, respectively. For the week the clearings were $47,007,015, against $49,774,135 last week and $43,608,423 a year ago, the balances amounting to $7,048,204 for the week, against $5,840,830 last week and $6,199,667 a year ago.

GRAIN MARKETS CLOSED HIGHER

AFTER SELLING BELOW YESTERDAY, WHEAT AND CORN RALLIED.

FOREIGN MARKETS WERE DULL

Movement of Corn Light and Cash Demand Good—Wheat and Corn Advanced Above Yesterday's Close.

Though the grain markets were weak after the opening wheat and corn closed with gains. Corn was the strong feature. The movement was light and Kansas City sent out bullish news, reporting that the shipments there were larger than the receipts.

The weather map showed a cold wave in the Northwest and a storm in the South. Snow fell last night in Nebraska, western Iowa and southern Illinois.

May wheat sold ⅛@¼c below yesterday, to 85⅛c, and then rallied on light trading, closing with a gain of ¼@⅜c up, at 85⅝c bid. The weakness in wheat hurt corn early. May sold down to 63⅞c, ⅜c below yesterday, before there was a rally. The option closed with a gain of ¼c, at 64½c asked.

Liverpool was dull. Wheat opened inactive and unchanged, the main factor being an advance in ocean freights. Later there was a decline of ⅛d, owing to an increase in stocks and large Australian shipments. Corn opened quiet and ⅛d lower, but advanced ⅛d on a forecast of small shipments during the week. Spot wheat and corn closed unchanged. Paris was ½c off and Antwerp steady.

The Australian wheat shipments last week were 1,072,000 bu, compared with 914,000 bu the previous week and 272,000 bu a year ago.

The wheat movement was light, Minneapolis and Duluth receiving 305 cars and St. Louis 12,800 bu. The receipts of wheat at primary points today were 416,037 bu and the shipments 224,069 bu.

Commission houses sold wheat at the opening and there were few outside buying orders. May wheat opened ⅛@¼c off at 85⅝c, sold off to 85⅛c and advanced to 85¾c, ⅛@¼c above yesterday. The market met realizing and sold off to 85½c and rallied to 85¾c, closing with a gain of ¼@⅜c at 85⅝c bid.

July wheat opened ¼@⅜c off at 77¼c and sold up to 77¾c, which was asked at the close, a gain of ⅛@¼c.

May wheat sold today at 85⅝c, 85¼c, 85⅛c, 85¼, 85¼@85⅜c, 85⅜c, 85½c, 85⅝c, 85¾c, 85⅝c, 85½c and 85⅝c.

July sales: 77¼c, 77½c and 77¾c.

The receipts of corn at primary points today were 178,191 bu and the shipments 242,896 bu. The receipts at St. Louis were only 36,800 bu and the May option opened ⅛c up at 64⅜c. The price dropped to 63⅞c in sympathy with the weakness in wheat. The break was followed by a rally to 64½c. The cash demand was good and the speculative offerings light. On light trading May went up to 64½@64⅝c and closed with an advance of ¼c at 64½c asked.

July corn opened unchanged at 64¼c and closed ⅛@¼c up, at 64@64⅛c bid.

May corn sold today at 64⅜c, 64¼@64⅜c, 64¼c, 64c, 64c, 64@64⅛c, 64c, 63⅞c, 64c, 64⅛c, 64c, 64⅛c, 64c, 64⅛c, 64¼c, 64¼c, 64⅛c@64⅜c, 64c, 64¼@64⅜c, 64¼c, 64¼@64⅜c, 64⅜@64½c, 64½c, 64⅜@64½c, 64⅛c, 64½@64⅝c and 64½c.

Oats—Receipts at primary points today were 211,691 bu, and the shipments were 222,035 bu. May oats opened ¼c off at 45¾c and sold off to 45½c, closing with a decline of ⅛c, at 45⅝c bid.

CASH GRAIN MARKETS.

Receipts of wheat at St. Louis today were 12,800 bu, of which 15 cars were local and one care through.

Trading in wheat light and the market was dull and unchanged. No. 2 red was nominally 87⅝@88c. One car of No. 3 sold at 87c. One car of No. 2 Nebraska hard sold at 78½c and a car of No. 2 mixed sold at 78c. Turkey was nominally worth 80@81c.

The receipts of corn at St. Louis today were 26,800 bu, of which 42 cars were local and four cars through.

The corn market was dull but stronger. No. 2 mixed sold at 63½c and No. 3 brought 61c, 61½c, 62c and 62½c. No. 2 white sold east side at 66c and No. 3 brought 64c.

Receipts of oats at St. Louis today were 57,600 bu, of which 31 cars were local and 17 cars through.

The oats market was dull and unchanged. No. 2 white sold west side at 48c. No. 3 brought 47c and 47¼c. No. 2 northern sold east side at 47¾c and switched west side at 48c.

Rye and Barley.

Receipts of rye at St. Louis were none; shipments, none; market stronger; No. 2 worth 61½@63c.

Barley—Receipts, 7500 bu; shipments, none. Market nominally 62@67c.

Lead and Spelter.

Lead—Receipts, 6700 pigs; shipments, 2300 pigs. Zinc—Receipts, 800 slabs; shipments, 5020 slabs. Lead market firm; desilverized and soft Missouri worth $4.

Spelter weak at $4 per ton.

General Market Notes.

To A. C. Petit, from Kansas City: Corn market here is strong on lighter receipts and a fair demand, which will increase very much should we get a bad spell of weather. Receipts today were only 64 cars, while shipments yesterday were 102 cars. If this ratio keeps up, shippers will be drawing on elevator stocks before ten days have passed.

Broomhall estimates the world's shipments of breadstuffs for Monday next at about 8,000,000 bu, of which Europe will take about 7,000,000. He predicts there will be a further increase in the quantity on passage. Arrivals of breadstuffs into the United Kingdom during the past week were about 3,000,000 bu, compared with a similar quantity the previous week and 2,432,000 bu the same period a year ago.

Wheat off coast, nothing doing; on passage, quiet, but steady. Corn, off coast, nothing doing; on passage, rather firmer.

MARKETS BY TELEGRAPH.

CHICAGO, Feb. 1.—The feeling that prompted selling in the grain markets yesterday prevailed at the opening of the board again today. Cables were steady, but the unresponsive tone, considering yesterday's local weakness, was thought to follow the increase of 1½c a bushel in ocean freights and consequently had little bullish effect. Trade was light and the majority of the orders were to sell. May started a shade higher to a shade lower at 77⅞@77½c and fluctuated between those figures and 77⅜@77¼c. Weakness in the coarse grains had a depressing effect as did the excess in Australian wheat shipments, which were 1,072,000 bushels for the week, against 915,000 the week before. Local receipts were 23 cars, four of contract grade; Minneapolis and Duluth reported 305 cars, making a total for the three points of 328 cars against 443 last week.

A revival in corn strength and covering braced May wheat after its early dip. The close was firm, ⅛c up at 78@78⅛c.

Corn started firm, but the selling sentiment and an easier tone in the southwestern markets influenced a decline. May opened ⅛c higher to a shade lower at 62⅝@62½c on steady cables, but dipped on liquidation and the wheat sag to 62⅛c. Later there was some covering which brought a small reaction and a steadier feeling around 62½c. Receipts were 73 cars. Pressure to sell long oats that had been accumulating on the recent rally and the sag in corn pushed oats down shortly after the opening. May started ⅛c higher to unchanged at 44¼@44⅛c and dipped to 43¾c. When corn began to steady, oats reacted and May held around 44@44⅛c. Receipts were only 52 cars.

Bearish sentiment in corn fell off on commission house buying and May closed at its top figure firm, ⅜c higher at 62⅞c.

Provisions were quiet and slightly higher at the opening on a fairly good hog market. The grain weakness had a slightly depressing effect. May pork opened unchanged to 2½c higher at $15.85@15.87½ and eased to $15.80; May lard 2½c up at $9.40 and eased a shade, and May ribs a shade higher at $8.40 and lost 2½c.

New York Cotton Letter.

NEW YORK, Feb. 1.—Trading in cotton futures was light and the market ruled dull and dragging all day. Liverpool spot market was off 1-32d, but short buying counteracted the weakness, and the market opened 2 to 5 points up. A decrease of 98,000 bales in the interior stocks caused southern buying. There was profit-taking by yesterday's buyers and a difference of opinion regarding next week's movements led to some irregularity, under which the market slipped lower, closing with gains of only 2 to 4 points. The spot markets closed firm and dull.

DR. PRICE'S cream BAKING POWDER

Is the Most Economical

Greater in leavening strength, a spoonful raises more dough, or goes further.

Working uniformly and perfectly, it makes the bread and cake always light and beautiful, and there is never a waste of good flour, sugar, butter and eggs.

While it actually costs less to make a batch of biscuit with the Price Baking Powder than with the so-called cheap powders, there is the additional advantage of better and more healthful food.

SMALL BOY HELD POLICE AT BAY

WILLIE CURTIS, AGED SEVEN, THREATENED TO SHOOT.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 1.—Seven-year-old Willie Curtis bought a stout belt with money he had saved, confiscated his father's loaded 32-caliber revolver, put the weapon in the belt and left home with the intention of going west to shoot Indians.

Soon his mother and another son were in pursuit. Willie was pointed out to Policeman Edward Williams.

Willie took to his heels. The chase led across Walnut street bridge which spans the Schuylkill, to a 50-foot stairway leading to the railroad tracks. Down these stairs the boy ran. Half way to the bottom he pulled his revolver and shouted to the policeman:

"I'll never be taken alive and if you come any nearer I'll blow your head off."

The policeman pulled his gun, but the lad would not retreat, holding the stairs for an hour. Strategy was finally resorted to. An assault was made on the little desperado from both ends and he was captured before he knew it.

It required four men to carry the lad to a patrol box. He was held for trial in the juvenile court. He had tried to run away several times before, his mother testified.

TREES FOR WORLD'S FAIR.

Four Rows Will Form an Arcade Over the Main Avenue.

D. W. C. Perry of Kansas City, assistant to George E. Kessler, landscape architect for the World's Fair, is planning the arboreal scheme of the Exposition grounds.

The main avenue will be beautified with four rows of trees, forming two arcades, the branches meeting overhead and forming a dense shade.

The trees used will be transplanted from other parts of the grounds, and so far only soft maples have been chosen. The smallest trees used will be 18 inches in diameter.

Prescription No. 2851 by Elmer & Amend will not cure all complaints, but it will cure rheumatism.

WORLD'S FAIR OFFICIALS ASKED

President Francis and Helpers Will Attend the Liederkranz "Purchase" Ball.

Mayor Wells, David R. Francis, heads of departments, and many of the World's Fair directors have accepted invitations to become guests at the "Louisiana Purchase" mask ball to be given at the Liederkranz Hall, Thirteenth and Chouteau avenue, Saturday night.

The ball will be formally opened at 10 o'clock from the stage. Thomas Jefferson, Napoleon and 60 other prominent citizens of the early days of the nineteenth century will appear in tableau.

Following the tableau fancy dances, especially arranged, will be given.

Cabanne Club Entertained.

A vaudeville performance was given Friday night at Arcade hall, in Cabanne, by the younger members of the Cabanne Club. Among the actors and singers were Mansfield Bay, Emily Young, Henry Aehele, Mary Shock, Wallace Niedringhaus, Earl Sandusky, Andrew Arbuckle, William Le Baume and Harry Bernet. Dancing at the clubhouse followed.

MRS. M. A. E. M'LURE DEAD AT 91 YEARS

WAS A HEROINE OF SOUTHERN CAUSE DURING CIVIL WAR.

ORGANIZER OF THE D. O. C.

Was a Prisoner of War in Her Home Before Leaving St. Louis for Mississippi.

Mrs. Margaret A. E. McLure, mother of Charles D. McLure and Charles Clark of St. Louis, and one of the Daughters of the Confederacy, died Friday night at her home, 43 Vandeventer place, aged 91 years.

The venerable woman had been confined to her bed two months from the effects of a fall on the floor of her room. She had been an invalid several years.

Mrs. McLure was in St. Louis at the outbreak of the war, and left the city because of her sympathy with the Confederacy, which had caused her to be made a prisner in her own home. She lived, during the war, at Jackson, Miss., and in Alabama. During the four years' conflict she was active in providing aid and relief for the soldiers of the South.

Returning to St. Louis after the war, Mrs. McLure became active in movements for memorials to the heroes of the Confederacy, and was the first president of the first chapter of the Daughters of the Confederacy.

She was a native of Parkersburg, W. Va., which place was named after her father's family. She was related to many well-known southern families, and lost several near relatives during the war.

Besides her son and daughter in St. Louis Mrs. McLure leaves a son, Louis McLure, living in California.

Mrs. McLure was a member of the Episcopal Church of the Holy Communion.

WORLD'S FAIR MUST HAVE CATLIN TRACT

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE DECIDES TO LEASE OR CONDEMN IT.

NEEDED IN BUILDING SCHEME

Owners of Property Say They Will Allow Exposition to Use It Upon Certain Conditions.

The executive committee of the World's Fair has decided that the Catlin tract, lying immediately north of the park site, is needed for the proper execution of the building scheme, and a special committee has been appointed to acquire it either by leases or condemnation proceedings.

This committee, which is composed of President Francis, Treasurer Thompson and Consul General Blair, is expected to hold a meeting Saturday to outline its plans.

The condemnation proceeding will be resorted to only upon the failure of the committee to reach an agreement to lease the property for a reasonable consideration.

President Francis states that the executive committee has learned that the present site, large as it is, does not give sufficient area for the grouping of the buildings according to the present plan, which is regarded as the best that can be devised.

The owners of the Catlin tract say they do not desire to stand in the way of the World's Fair management, and will lease the property if their conditions will be complied with.

"We only require that the tract be left in good condition after the Fair," said Thomas Wright. "Two weeks ago we proposed to allow the Exposition company to use the property for a reasonable consideration provided it would agree to treat the River des Peres permanently where it crosses the tract and would require all railroads crossing the property to be elevated."

The present owners purchased the property recently for $1,000,000.

If condemnation proceedings shall be found necessary the committee will institute them on the ground that the corporation that will build the World's Fair is essentially a public institution.

LOUIS FLEISCHMAN STRICKEN

For Years He Has Given Free Bread and Coffee to All Who Came to His Place at Midnight.

NEW YORK, Feb. 1.—Louis Fleschman, a millionaire baker, has been stricken with paralysis and his death is imminent. Fleischman is chiefly noted for his famous charity work.

One of the sights of the city is the "midnight bread eaters" who line up in front of the Fleischman bakery, about 10:30 o'clock every night. Gradually the line grows until at 12 o'clock there are from 150 to 500 men, women and boys in it. At the stroke of midnight, the Fleischman employes begin handing out free bread and coffee. No one is ever refused.

For ten years Mr. Fleischman has maintained this brigade and old-timers say there are men who have been in that line almost nightly since it was started.

When Fleischman came to America, in 1876, he was penniless. His brother, the late Charles Fleischman, whose yeast is well known, backed him in the famous "Vienna Bakery" at the Philadelphia centennial, and they made big money. After that it was clear sailing for both men.

CONSUMPTIVES ARE ISOLATED.

New York Authorities Are Determined to Reduce the Disease.

NEW YORK, Feb. 1.—Recognizing in tuberculosis an infectious disease, the physicians of New York are demanding the isolation of consumptives for the protecting of the public and to the end that sufferers may receive better treatment and have every possible chance of recovery.

The first step in this direction was made by the removal of 30 consumptives from Bellevue Hospital to a new pavilion of Metropolitan Hospital on Blackwell's Island. Further transfers will be made to the island when the weather becomes more favorable.

Death of Mrs. Frances Beakey.

Arrangement for the funeral of Mrs. Frances Beakey, who died Friday in her apartments at the Grand Avenue Hotel, will be deferred until the arrival of her daughter, Mrs. Charles Clark of New York. Mrs. Beakey was born in St. Louis 82 years ago. Her maiden name was Frances Keating. In 1846 she married James Beakey in the old Catholic Cathedral on Walnut street.

His Connection With Arbitration Commission Their Grounds.

NEW YORK, Feb. 1.—At a meeting of delegates representing 52 socialist labor unions, which are opposed to present plans for arbitration between capital and labor, President Gompers of the American Federation of Labor was vigorously denounced for his connection with the arbitration committee of the National Civic Federation. A meeting was called for Feb. 13 at Cooper Union. Presidents Gompers, Mitchell and Shafer were invited to be present and explain their attitude.

SHE SNUBBED SCHLEY AND IS SORRY

LOUISVILLE GIRL, MISS BRIDGEFORD, MADE A MISTAKE.

THE ADMIRAL A CHESTERFIELD

He Says He Cannot Understand Why, With Such Girls, There Are Kentucky Bachelors.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Feb. 1.—Miss Madeline Bridgeford, a Louisville society girl, is the only woman who ever snubbed Admiral Schley, and she is mighty sorry. It happened at a breakfast at the home of Mrs. Marion E. Taylor, where Admiral and Mrs. Schley were staying. The breakfast was to ladies only, so the admiral kept upstairs. When he thought the way was clear he started down, hoping to get out without being seen. On the stairs he met three girls who at once surrounded him and introduced themselves. As the three girls passed on Miss Bridgeford started up. The admiral stepped to one side, bowing deeply. The girl looked at him uncertainly.

"I believe," she hesitated, "I believe you have the advantage of me, sir."

"Indeed, pardon me," murmured the admiral, bowing still lower. "It's only Admiral Schley."

"Oh!" exclaimed the girl, her face crimson. She ran upstairs, but the admiral would not be content until he had achieved a formal meeting.

"There is only one thing about Louisville that I can't understand," said Admiral Schley later. "You have bachelors here. Louisville women are the kind of women old-time knights died for and modern men live and fight for."

PRINCE TO BREAKFAST HERE

If His Train Is Late He Will Have Time Only to Drive Up Town and Back to the Station.

When Prince Henry of Prussia reaches St. Louis he will eat breakfast at the St. Louis Club. This is as far as formal arrangements have been made for his entertainment by the civic authorities of the ceremonial committee of the World's Fair.

Assistant Secretary Hill, chairman of the government committee of arrangements for the tour of Prince Henry, has not replied to the invitation of the city of St. Louis or to the protest at the short duration of his stay.

The only information the authorities have on the subject has come through press dispatches. The entertainment of the prince, therefore, will be gauged to cover a period of four hours.

Chairman Spencer of the ceremonial committee of the World's Fair, says the prince will arrive in St. Louis at 6:30 a. m., if the train is on time, which is not likely. If the train is on time, the hour will be too early for the prince to arise, so that he probably will not appear before 9 o'clock. This would leave two hours for his entertainment. He would be driven from the train to the St. Louis Club, have breakfast and be driven back to the train.

EDUCATION FOR PRACTICAL USE.

The Demand for Stenographers.

Young people who have finished their studies at the regular schools should investigate the advantages offered by the Bryant & Stratton Business, Shorthand and Telegraph School of St. Louis, for thoroughly educating students and aiding them in getting employment. Business men are constantly applying at the college office for help, such calls frequently running as high as 60 or 70 in a single month and largely outnumbering graduates desiring positions. The school has elegant rooms in the Century building, cor. Olive and Ninth streets, and is fully equipped with everything necessary for comfort and progress. Write for circular.

NEW YORK, Feb. 1.—It is stated that a dividend of 1 per cent has been declared by the directors of the Northern Securities Co., and that the checks already have been mailed. It is understood to be payable to holders of record Jan. 31 and is the first dividend paid by the new company.

DR. M'MAHON THE TREASURER.

He Will Take Up Work of Raising $2,000,000 for University.

NEW YORK, Feb. 1.—The Rev. Dr. Joseph H. McMahon, rector of the Church of Our Lady of Lourdes in this city, has been appointed successor to Archbishop Keane in the work of raising $2,000,000 as an endowment for the Catholic university at Washington.

Archbishop Keane had obtained pledges for about $1,000,000, but his appointment as archbishop of Dubuque compelled him to give up the work.

NATURAL GAS GAVE OUT.

As a Result the People of Canton, O., Are Shivering With Cold.

CANTON, O., Feb. 1.—Canton people are shivering today, owing to a break in the natural gas mains. The break was reported in the Wetzel County, West Virginia, yesterday morning, but until last evening supply at low pressure continued in residences, shops and large buildings having been cut off early in the day. This morning the supply was entirely cut off. Probably several thousand houses in this city have no other heat and much inconvenience is being experienced.

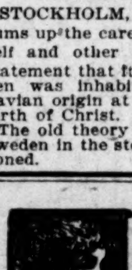
SWEDES AN OLD PEOPLE.

Scandinavians Inhabited Country, Scientists Say, in B. C. 3000.

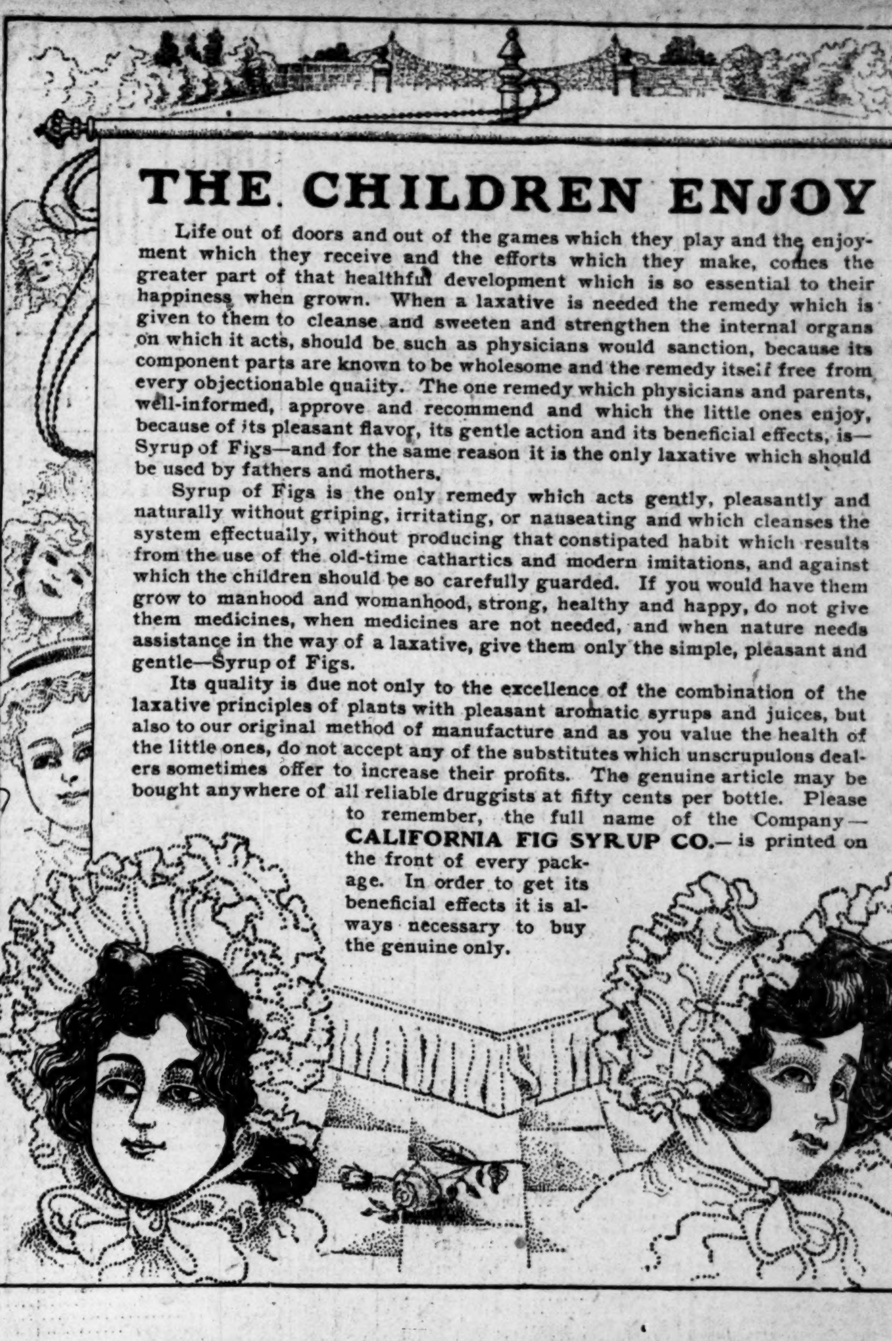
STOCKHOLM, Feb. 1.—Prof. Montelius sums up the careful research made by himself and other eminent scientists in the statement that it is beyond doubt that Sweden was inhabited by people of Scandinavian origin at least 3000 years before the birth of Christ.

The old theory that another race lived in Sweden in the stone age must now be abandoned.



PARKER'S HAIR BALSAM

Promotes the growth of the hair and gives it the lustre and silkiness of youth. When the hair is gray or faded it BRINGS BACK THE YOUTHFUL COLOR. It prevents Dandruff and hair falling and keeps the scalp clean and healthy.



THE CHILDREN ENJOY

Life out of doors and out of the games which they play and the enjoyment which they receive and the efforts which they make, comes the greater part of that healthful development which is so essential to their happiness when grown. When a laxative is needed the remedy which is given to them to cleanse and sweeten and strengthen the internal organs on which it acts, should be such as physicians would sanction, because its component parts are known to be wholesome and the remedy itself free from every objectionable quality. The one remedy which physicians and parents, well-informed, approve and recommend and which the little ones enjoy, because of its pleasant flavor, its gentle action and its beneficial effects, is—Syrup of Figs—and for the same reason it is the only laxative which should be used by fathers and mothers.

Syrup of Figs is the only remedy which acts gently, pleasantly and naturally without griping, irritating, or nauseating and which cleanses the system effectually, without producing that constipated habit which results from the use of the old-time cathartics and modern imitations, and against which the children should be so carefully guarded. If you would have them grow to manhood and womanhood, strong, healthy and happy, do not give them medicines, when medicines are not needed, and when nature needs assistance in the way of a laxative, give them only the simple, pleasant and gentle—Syrup of Figs.

Its quality is due not only to the excellence of the combination of the laxative principles of plants with pleasant aromatic syrups and juices, but also to our original method of manufacture and as you value the health of the little ones, do not accept any of the substitutes which unscrupulous dealers sometimes offer to increase their profits. The genuine article may be bought anywhere of all reliable druggists at fifty cents per bottle. Please to remember, the full name of the Company—CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP CO.—is printed on the front of every package. In order to get its beneficial effects it is always necessary to buy the genuine only.
